THE Board of Trade have received through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Minister at Buenos Aires, enclosing a Decree of the Argentine Government on the subject of Pilotage, a translation of which is appended.

(Translation.)

Department of War and Marine,
Buenos Aires, November 7, 1877.

Forasmuch as it is incumbent on the Government to exonerate both national (nacional) and foreign sea-going vessels engaged in navigating the Rio de la Plata and its tributaries from burdens not absolutely requisite, and which are prejudicial to the commerce of the country, the President of the Republic has resolved and decrees :

ARTICLE I. Until a Convention be concluded with the Government of the Oriental Republic as regards light-house service in the Rio de la Plata, the Port-Captain's Department shall not aid in the recovery of any light-dues which are not authorized by the laws of the country.

It shall be declared by the Port-Captain's Department, with the least possible delay, which are the lights and what the scale of charges for vessels coming direct and for those touching at Oriental Ports, in order to the adoption of needful steps in this regard.

ARTICLE II. Sea-going vessels bound from foreign ports beyond the capes (de cabos à fuera)* to the Rio de la Plata, direct for Argentine Ports, are not compelled to take a pilot, unless desirous so to do.

But since it is necessary to provide against damage that may possibly be occasioned to Argentine channels or harbours, through inexperience on the part of captains, in the event of not taking a pilot, the latter shall pay to Government one-half of the established pilot-charge.

ARTICLE III. A mutual agreement may be made between captains or consignees and pilots as respects the remuneration to be made to the latter; but in no case must this be in excess of the established tariff, which must hold good, unless an agreement has been made to the contrary.

ARTICLE IV. The office of pilot for direct navigation to Argentine ports is reserved for pilots of the Republic. Vessels which leave for foreign ports, and from thence are bound to Argentine ports, shall not, upon leaving the latter, take any but Argentine pilots, if they wish to take a pilot at all.

ARTICLE V. Inasmuch as pilots are agents of the maritime police, and are subject to the obligations imposed by the marine ordinances and the rules in force as respects harbour police and river navigation, pilots of the country can alone exercise this profession, subject only to what is provided for in the present regulations.

ARTICLE VI. Pilots of other countries cannot exercise their profession in the navigation of the Rio de la Plata and its tributaries, from or to an Argentine port, without showing their certificate, and without being approved of, after undergoing examination, in the same manner as the pilots of the country, binding themselves, moreover, to fulfil every obligation imposed upon them by the laws of the Republic.

* Capes Santa Maria and San Antonio.

ARTICLE VII. A foreign pilot, exercising his profession without this requisite, shall not be recognised for the purposes of this Decree, and shall be responsible for damage caused by him, in accordance with what is provided for by the laws of the Republic.

ARTICLE VIII. Pilots of the country and foreigners shall not be compelled to give any security for exercising their profession, except when they have no fixed residence in the country, in which case they must provide a guarantee of the amount of two thousand five hundred silver dollars.

ARTICLE IX. Let this be made known, &c.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 18, 1878.

Her Majesty's Most Gracious Speech, delivered by the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Thursday, January 17, 1878.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I HAVE thought fit to assemble you before the usual period of your meeting in order that you might become acquainted with the efforts I have made to terminate the war now devastating Eastern Europe and Armenia, and that I might have the advice and assistance of my Parliament in the present state of public affairs.

You are aware that, after having unsuccessfully striven to avert that war, I declared my intention to observe neutrality in a contest which I lamented, but had failed to prevent, so long as the interests of my Empire, as defined by my Government, were not threatened.

I expressed, at the same time, my earnest desire to avail myself of any opportunity which might present itself for promoting a peaceful settlement of the questions at issue between the belligerent Powers.

The successes obtained by the Russian arms, both in Europe and Asia, convinced the Porte that it should endeavour to bring to a close hostilities which were causing immense sufferings to its subjects. The Government of the Sultan accordingly addressed to the Neutral Powers, parties to the Treaties relating to the Turkish Empire, an appeal for their good offices.

It did not, however, appear to the majority of the Powers thus addressed that they could usefully comply with the request, and they communicated this opinion to the Porte.

The Porte then determined on making a separate appeal to my Government, and I at once agreed to make an inquiry of the Emperor of Russia whether His Imperial Majesty would entertain overtures for peace.

The Emperor expressed, in reply, his earnest desire for peace, and stated, at the same time, his opinion as to the course which should be pursued for its attainment.

Upon this subject communications have taken place between the Governments of Russia and Turkey through my good offices, and I earnestly trust that they may lead to a pacific solution of the points at issue and to a termination of the war. No efforts on my part will be wanting to promote that result.

Hitherto, so far as the war has proceeded, neither of the belligerents has infringed the conditions on which my neutrality is founded, and I willingly believe that both parties are desirous to respect them, so far as it may be in their power. So long as these conditions are not infringed, my attitude will continue the same. But I cannot conceal from myself that, should hostilities be unfortunately prolonged, some unexpected occurrence may render it incumbent on me to adopt measures of precaution. Such measures could not be effectually taken without adequate preparation, and I trust to the liberality of my Parliament to supply the means which may be required for that purpose.

Papers on these affairs will be forthwith laid before you.

My relations with all foreign Powers continue to be friendly.

I am thankful that the terrible famine which has ravaged Southern India is nearly at an end. Strenuous and successful exertions have been made by my Local Governments to relieve the sufferings of the population, and in that duty they have been powerfully seconded by the liberal aid of my people at home and in my Colonies. I have directed that an enquiry should be made into the measures most proper to diminish the danger of such calamities for the future.

The condition of native affairs in South Africa has of late caused me some anxiety, and has demanded the watchful attention of my Government. I have thought it expedient to reinforce my troops in that part of my Empire. I trust that a peaceable and satisfactory settlement of all differences may be shortly obtained.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have directed the Estimates of the year to be prepared and presented to you without delay.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

A Bill will be laid before you upon the subject of County Government, and your attention will be again called to the consolidation of the Factory Law, and to the Summary Jurisdiction of Magistrates.

You will be asked at an early period of the Session to take into your consideration a Bill on the subject of Cattle Disease in this country.

The questions of Scottish Roads and Bridges, and of Endowed Schools and Hospitals in Scotland, will also be brought before you.

Your attention will be invited to the subject of Intermediate Education in Ireland, and to the Grand Jury Law in that country.

Among other measures for the Amendment of the Law, a Bill will be laid before you to simplify and express in one Act the whole Law and Procedure relating to Indictable Offences.

I commend these subjects to your most careful consideration, and I pray that the blessing of the Almighty may attend and guide your deliberations.

For his gallant conduct at Quetta, on the 26th July, 1877, whilst serving in the 4th Sikh Infantry, on the occasion of an attack by some Pathan Coolies on Lieutenants Hewson and Kunhardt, of the Royal Engineers.

On the evening of that day, Captain Scott, whilst on duty at the regimental parade ground of the 4th Sikh Infantry at Quetta, hearing an alarm that British Officers were being killed, spontaneously rushed to the rescue, and finding Lieutenant Hewson cut down, and Lieutenant Kunhardt retiring, hard-pressed and wounded, and only protected by Sepoy Ruchpal Singh, of the above-mentioned Regiment, fell on the assailants, and with his own hand bayonetted two men, and closed with a third, who fell with him to the ground, and was killed by Sepoys of the Regiment. This act of courage and devotion saved the life of Lieutenant Kunhardt.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of FEBRUARY 1, 1878.

AT the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 15th day of January, 1878.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS there was this day read at the Board a Memorial from the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, dated the 12th of January, 1878, in the words following, viz. :—

"Whereas we have had under our consideration the representations made by the Officers of the Royal Marines (and particularly by the Captains and Subalterns) of the continued stagnation of promotion in the Corps: and whereas it appears to us, after full inquiry, that the only way of meeting the difficulty, with due regard to the interests of the Officers generally and the efficiency of the Service, will be by adopting, as far as possible, in the Royal Marines, the principle of Retirement and Promotion now established in the Army by your Majesty's recent Royal Warrant, and by extending the system of compulsory retirement established in the Royal Marine Corps by your Majesty's Order in Council of the 22nd February, 1870, we humbly submit for your Majesty's approval the following Scheme, which we have submitted in the form of Regulations, which have been framed with the object of providing a fair and even flow of promotion throughout the whole Corps of Royal Marines.

"REGULATIONS.

"1.—General Officers.

"General Officers to retire at 65 years of age (instead of 70, as at present, under the Order in Council of 1870), with the Full-Pay of a Colonel Commandant.

"2.—Reserved Colonels.

"The List of Reserved Colonels to be abolished.

"3.—Second Commandants.

"Second Commandants hereafter appointed to be of the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, instead of Colonel, but to receive the existing Pay of Second Commandant.

"4.—Re-establishment of Majors.

"The substantive rank of Major to be restored, both in the Artillery and Infantry, with Pay at the rate of 16s. a day for both branches, and the regulated forage allowance (now 1*s.* 10*d.* a day), and Half-Pay at the rate of—

"for Artillery - - 10*s.* 0*d.* a day.
"Infantry - - 9*s.* 6*d.* „

"The Establishment of Majors and Captains to be as follows; viz.,—

| | Majors | | Captains |
|---|---|---|---|
| "Infantry - | 24 | - | 72 (instead of 96 Captains as at present). |
| "Artillery - | 8 | - | 24 (intead of 32 Captains as at present). |

"5.—Lieutenant-Colonel for Artillery.

"The number of Lieutenant-Colonels in the Artillery Division to be increased from 3 to 4 (the number allowed to each Infantry Division).

"6.—Special Promotion.

"An Officer of any rank may be promoted by us a reward for special merit and promise, but such special promotion shall not exceed one in each year for the whole corps, and in every case the promotion is to be notified in the London Gazette, with a statement of the special merit for which it has been granted.

"7.—Staff Appointments.

"The duration of commands to be for 3 years, as at present, under the Order in Council of the 4th August, 1873,—but renewable for a further period of 2 years, at our option.

"The command of Divisions to be given, without reference to seniority, to Officers holding the rank of Colonel or Lieutenant-Colonel in the corps, whose services and qualifications best justify their selection.

"The duration of all other Staff Appointments to be for 5 years.

"8.—Adjutants.

"The pay of Adjutants, both in the Infantry and Artillery, to be increased from 3*s.* 6*d.* to 5*s.* a day, in addition to their ordinary pay as Lieutenants.

"9.—Quarter-Masters.

"A fixed rate of daily pay to be substituted for the £30 a year granted to Quarter-Masters, under the Order in Council of 3rd February, 1866, and to apply to all Quarter-Masters whether employed at the Divisions or at Head-Quarters.

"The Chief Clerk at the Marine Office to be a Quarter-Master; and to receive an allowance of 5*s.* a day, in addition to his ordinary pay as Quarter-Master.

"10.—First Entries.

"First entries to be carefully regulated, and a fixed number only, to be determined on actuarial advice, to be admitted in each year, in order that the officers compulsorily retired on arriving at certain ages may be as few as possible.

"The number to be limited to 16 or 17 appointments in each year for the whole force so long as it remains at its present strength, viz.:—

"12 or 13 for the Infantry.

"4 or 5 for the Artillery.

And in the event of any increase or diminution of the Establishment, the changes to be effected on actuarial advice and in the method least prejudicial to the ultimate interests of Officers on the Active List.

"11.—Retirement.

"Compulsory Retirements to be as follows:—

| | At the age of | | Pay. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| General Officers ... ... | 65 | (instead of 70, as at present) | Full-pay of a Commandant, as under existing Regulations. | |

| Captains ... ... ... | 42 | ... ... ... | £225 „ | |

Until the 1st January, 1879, Captains to be allowed to remain until 43 years of age.

A deduction of £15 for each year wanting to complete the age specified above to be made in the case of Colonels or Lieutenant-Colonels 2nd Commandant, if retired for being unfit to serve.

"Voluntary Retirements.

"The present Scale of Allowances for Voluntary Retirements in the case of the undermentioned Officers (under the Order in Council of the 22nd February, 1870) to be abolished, and the following substituted :—

| When permitted to retire | to receive |
|---|---|
| Lieutenant-Colonels, with 30 years service ... ... ... ... | £365 a year. |
| Lieutenant-Colonels, with 28 and less than 30 years service ... | £300 a year. |
| Lieutenant-Colonels, with 25 and less than 28 years service ... | £260 a year. |
| Lieutenant-Colonels, with less than 25 years service ... ... | £225 a year. |
| Majors, with 25 years service ... | £260 a year. |
| Majors, with 22 and less than 25 years service ... ... ... | £225 a year. |

"Officers, when permitted to retire with less than 22 years service, are to be granted gratuities as follows :—

"After 20 years service, a gratuity of £2,400.
"After 18 years service, a gratuity of £2,000.
"After 15 years service, a gratuity of £1,600.
"After 12 years service, a gratuity of £1,200.
"These gratuities not to be granted without the consent of the Treasury, and only for the purpose of reducing the number of Officers compulsorily retired on 22 years of service ; and no addition to the number of fresh entries to be made in consequence.

"The above rates of Retired Pay shall not apply to any Officer who entered the Service prior to the 1st April, 1870, and all such Officers, on their retirement, whether compulsory or voluntary.

at the periods stated in these regulations, shall be entitled to receive the Retired Pay which they could have claimed under the Orders in Council of the 22nd February. 1870, and 5th February, 1872, under the same conditions of age and service.

"12.—Retirement from Ill-health, &c.

"Officers incapacitated by illness, &c., after only short service, to be granted instead of temporary half-pay as allowed by Order in Council of 4th August, 1873, Retired Allowances, by way of Annuity, upon the following conditions, which are the same conditions as those imposed upon Army Officers by the 151st and 152nd Articles of the recent Royal Warrant, viz. :—

"An Officer who may become unfit for service in consequence of wounds received in action, or of ill-health contracted in and by the performance of military duty, as certified by a Medical Board, may be granted temporary half-pay until he shall recover, and until an opportunity shall occur for his re-employment. Except in the case of wounds received in action, the Officer must, however, have served with a commission in our Marine Forces for three years, unless he shall have been promoted from the ranks, when one year's service only as a Commissioned Officer shall be required. In special cases in which the circumstances may appear to us to call for exceptional consideration, it shall be sufficient that the disability shall have been contracted in the service.

"In the case of an Officer placed upon temporary half-pay in consequence of injuries caused in and by the service, we may, provided a Medical Board report that the Officer is unfit for further service, place such officer upon permanent half-pay, after not less than one year upon temporary half-pay. In special cases in which the circumstances may appear to us to call for exceptional consideration, it shall be sufficient that the disability shall have been contracted in the service.

"But such Retired Allowances, by way of annuity, are only to be granted in special cases, with the consent of the Treasury, and the rates are to be made so as to coincide, as far as may be, with the principle of a pension of £225 a year at 42 years of age.

"13.—All service for the purposes of gratuity, pension, and retirements to count from the age of 20, except in the case of Officers who entered the service prior to the 1st April, 1870, who, under the Order in Council of the 5th February, 1872, retain the right of counting time from the age of 18 if appointed before that age, and from the date of their Commission if appointed after 18.

"14.—These Regulations are to take effect from the 1st October, 1877.

"The Lords Commissioners of your Majesty's Treasury have signified to us their concurrence in these proposals."

Her Majesty, having taken the said Memorial into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve of what is therein proposed. And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

And whereas it is further provided by the said Ordinance that the said Ordinance shall not come into operation until Her Majesty shall by Order in Council direct that the said Ordinance shall have effect within the Colony as if it were part of "The Extradition Act, 1870," but that the said Ordinance shall thereafter come into operation as soon as such Order in Council shall have been publicly made known in the Colony.

Every vacancy on the establishment of General Officers shall be filled by the promotion of the senior Colonel of the Indian Army ; or by the moving up of the name of the senior Officer of the Staff Corps borne on the list to regulate promotion ; or by the transfer of a General Officer from the supernumerary list as provided in Art. 12.

9. Every vacancy on the establishment in the rank of Lieutenant-General or in that of General shall be filled up in like manner by the promotion of the Senior Officer of the Indian Army in the grade next below, or by the moving up of the name of the Senior Officer of the Staff Corps borne on the list of that grade.

10. Temporary rank and command as Major-General, Lieutenant-General, or General may, for the convenience of Our Service, be conferred, without regard to seniority, on Colonels, Major-Generals, or Lieutenant-Generals respectively; and if the Officer during the continuance of such temporary rank and command shall have conducted himself to Our satisfaction, the rank so held may, upon the recommendation of Our Governor-General in Council, be converted into permanent rank after having been held for five years in time of peace, or for any shorter period in the field during war. A Colonel who shall vacate an appointment as temporary Major-General, and whose temporary rank shall not have been made permanent, may, upon the recommendation of Our Governor General in Council, be made an honorary Major-General, and shall retain that rank until he succeed to the establishment in virtue of his seniority on the list of Colonels.

11. Promotion may be conferred upon a Colonel, Major-General, or Lieutenant-General without regard to seniority, for distinguished service in the field, and in such case the recommendation of Our Governor-General in Council, detailing the services for which the Officer is promoted, shall be published in the General Orders of Our Indian Military Forces, and in the London Gazette.

12. An Officer not below the rank of Colonel, promoted after temporary service in a higher rank, or for distinguished service in the field, shall be borne as supernumerary, and shall not be placed on the establishment in his new rank until the time when he would have attained such rank by seniority; that is to say, when the surviving Officer who stood next senior on the list to the Officer promoted under Art. 9 or 10, shall have attained the same rank on the establishment, the next vacancy shall be filled by the transfer of the supernumerary General Officer to the establishment.

13. A supernumerary Major-General, who has been promoted after temporary service and absorbed, under Art. 12, into the establishment, shall have seniority according to the date of his permanent rank as Major-General, and shall rise to be Lieutenant-General, whether before or after his absorption into the establishment, in accordance with that seniority. A supernumerary General Officer promoted for distinguished service in the field, and absorbed under Art. 12, shall take his seniority from the date of his promotion as published in the London Gazette.

14. Field Marshals shall be appointed at the will of the Sovereign, and the rank shall be conferred without reference to seniority. A General Officer, retired under Our Warrant of the 31st day of December, 1877, shall remain eligible for promotion to the rank of Field Marshal.

15. A Major-General or a Lieutenant-General, retired under Our Warrant of the 31st day of December, 1877, shall be promoted to the rank of Lieutenant-General or General when the Officer on the establishment, who was next junior to him as a Colonel, shall obtain such promotion.

16. Every Officer permitted to retire on full pay may be granted a step of honorary rank on retirement.

DESPATCHES and their enclosures, of which the following are copies, have been received by the Secretary of State for War, from General Sir A. Cunynghame, K.C.B., Commanding the troops in South Africa:—

From General Sir A. Cunynghame, K.C.B., to the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for War.

Ibeka Transkei,
January 7, 1878.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to enclose to you, a despatch from Lieutenant-Colonel Lambert, 88th Regiment, now commanding at the Komgha, informing me that on the 29th and 30th ultimo, small bodies of troops that he had sent to clear the road, for the postal service, had been attacked by the enemy, whom they had signally defeated.

Lieutenant-Colonel Lambert encloses reports from Brevet-Major Moore, 88th Regiment, who is now employed as second in command of the Colonial Frontier Armed and Mounted Police, and who on both occasions took command conjointly of that portion of his force which was employed, and also of the detachment 88th Regiment who were in the field.

The young soldiers of the 88th appear to have behaved excellently, and their officers to have shown steadiness and judgment.

I cannot speak too highly of the conduct of Brevet-Major Moore, who by all present is reported to have shown the most conspicuous gallantry, and which would have been more fully brought to light, had he not been himself the reporting officer upon his own deeds. I have every belief that the success of this really hazardous encounter, is in a very great degree due to his energy and talents as an officer.

I have caused further enquiry to be made, from those who evidenced the transactions, upon this subject, and I will not fail to bring the particulars of his conduct to your notice, for from what I hear, I believe you will deem him worthy of your especial consideration.

I have &c.,
A. T. CUNYNGHAME,
General.

From Lieutenant-Colonel Lambert, 88th Connaught Rangers, Commanding at Komgha, to Deputy-Adjutant-General, King Williamstown.

Komgha,
SIR, January 2, 1878.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for the information of His Excellency the Commander of the Forces, the enclosed reports from Major Moore, 88th Connaught Rangers, of skirmishes which took place between the troops under my command and the Kaffirs on the 29th and 30th ultimo.

1. At 2.15 P.M. on the 30th, the report of firing arms being heard in camp, I sent a reinforcement of 50 men, 88th Connaught Rangers, under Lieutenant Mann.

2. I started at once in the direction of Draai-bosch, and was joined on the road by Sub-Inspector Waring, Frontier Armed and Mounted Police, who had most promptly got together the available men left in barracks.

3. On arriving at Savages Shop, I found Captain Acklom's men had retired there, but hearing of the approach of more troops, had returned to their old position on the hill, where I ordered them to remain.

4. When Lieutenant Mann's party arrived, I pushed it forward to the hill overlooking Draaibosch, then I despatched the Mail Bags with the escort of 10 men that had joined me with Sub-Inspector Waring.

5. The escort got safely to Gray's Farm, rejoined before we reached Komgha.

6. I retired by the high ground the north of the road, the direction from which the attack was made; large bodies of Kaffirs were visible on the crests of the distant hills, mounted as well as footmen.

7. Major Moore states in para. 12, "that the firing was wild;" I would explain that some of the men engaged had never fired, and that others had only been put through a recruit's course, which was carried on at Athlone during winter months under great disadvantages.

8. I consider that Major Moore has underestimated the loss on the enemy's side on the 30th, as I heard to-day from reliable authority, that over 50 men are missing in the kraals from which this attack was made, in addition to many wounded.

9. Private McGreavy, one of the men said to be missing, reported himself at Kei Road with two men of Frontier Armed Mounted Police, on 1st instant.

10. Private McGranegan, the other missing man, reported that he felt weak; was allowed by Dr. McCartney to ride in the Scotch cart which accompanied the party; then the men formed for attack, he was ordered to fall in; no one can give any account of him after that.

11. I went out this morning with 80 men in direction of Draaibosch, in the hopes of recovering his body. I searched the kloof which sides for some distance round where the fight took place, but could find no trace of it.

12. I then proceeded to the scene of the skirmish of the previous day, and found the body of Policeman Giesse; it was interred on the spot, the service being read by Major Moore; the sons of the deceased, who had come up from East London, were present.

13. I consider Major Moore's skirmish on the afternoon of the 29th was of the greatest service, as it was undoubtedly the means of drawing off a large body of Kaffirs, who had posted themselves on the hill on this side of Draaibosch, with the intention of tracking a convoy of wagons outspanned there that morning from Kei Road. A commissariat horse belonging to Deputy Commissary General Strickland's train was captured, and they showed such evident signs of attacking, that Lieutenant Wood, commanding the escort 88th, posted a chain of sentries. When the report of firing was heard, the Kaffirs withdrew, and I have little doubt that the last force met by Major Moore as he was advancing towards Draaibosch were the same men, and that this incident saved the convoy.

14. I cannot close my report without directing special attention to the bravery and gallant conduct of Major Moore, both on the 29th and 30th.

On the 29th he rallied a few Frontier Mounted Police, and made a desperate, though unsuccessful attempt to save the life of Policeman Giesse; he was wounded severely in the arm with an assegai, and his horse also incurred a severe wound. Had he been properly supported by his men, his gallant effort would have probably had a different result.

On the 30th the conduct of this officer was beyond all praise, and the theme of high commendation with everyone. The mere handful of young soldiers could only have been made to stand as firmly as they did, by such conspicuous courage and cool daring as Major Moore showed during the whole of this action: the least wavering would have been fatal.

Major Moore's horse on this occasion received three gunshot wounds, and had in consequence to be destroyed.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) W. LAMBERT, Lieutenant-Colonel Commanding 88th Regiment, and Troops, Komgha.

---

From Brevet-Major Moore, 88th Regiment, Frontier Armed Mounted Police, to Lieutenant-Colonel W. Lambert, Commanding Troops.

Camp, Komgha,
December 31, 1877.

Sir,

1. I HAVE the honour to report, that in compliance with your orders I started from this on the 29th instant, at 1 P.M., with a patrol of 32 non-commissioned officers and men, Frontier Armed Mounted Police, and Sub-Inspector Mitchell, in the direction of Draaibosch, near which place the postriders carrying the mails to Kei Road, same forenoon, had been fired on and forced to return to Komgha.

2. About 4 miles from Komgha I turned off the road to the right, and passing by the ruins of De Cock's house, which had been burned by Kaffirs a few hours before, advanced cautiously with patrols thrown out, to the top of a neighbouring hill, on the further slope of which, among large boulders, were posted a number of Kaffirs, with guns and assegais.

3. I was with the advanced party, and called upon the Kaffirs nearest to me to lay down their arms: in reply a shot was fired at us by a man 30 or 40 yards off, and others quickly followed.

4. The troop having come up presently, I ordered the men to dismount, and half to skirmish. The Kaffirs, about 100 in number, then began to run down the slope towards the Kabousie, followed for a short direction by our skirmishers.

5. We then mounted, and took up a commanding position about a mile nearer the Draaibosch, from which we could see another party of Kaffirs coming from the direction of the Kabousie, with the intention, apparently, of getting round our left.

6. Having again dismounted and commenced skirmishing, the enemy retired in haste towards the river.

7. We then turned away sharp to the left, towards Draaibosch, in order to gain, according to your order, a detachment of 40 men, 88th Regiment, under Lieutenant Wood, who were escorting ammunition wagons to Komgha.

8. About two miles from the ruins of Macdonald's Canteen, our right patrol came upon a body of about 300 Kaffirs, who were advancing in our direction; the troop was ordered to dismount to receive them, but after firing a few shots, retired. The Kaffirs followed up, and having overtaken one man, Private Giesse, who was dismounted, and dragging his horse after him, killed him with assegais, despite the efforts of a few to rescue him. I grieve to say we were unable to recover the body, greatly outnumbered as we were.

9. The enemy afterwards came to a halt, and about a mile from Savage's Shop, were met by Deputy Commissary-General Strickland, Assistant Commissary Richardson, and Lieutenant Wood, who had heard the firing from Draaibosch, where they had outspanned.

10. We then accompanied the ammunition wagons and detachment 88th Regiment, to Komgha, without molestation.

Commandant Cowie, who accompanied me throughout, and Sub-Inspector Mitchell, did good service; Dr. Clinton, in medical charge; Colour-Sergeant Harbor and Corporal Court, Frontier Armed Mounted Police, behaved gallantly in attempting to rescue Private Giesse when surrounded by Kaffirs. Sergeant Harbor further distinguished himself by halting when the enemy were within a few yards, and taking up behind him Private Martindale, whose horse had broken loose, thus saving him from sharing the fate of Private Giesse.

Five of the enemy were seen to drop, including three who were pistoled in the melée round Private Giesse. There may have been over and above this number accounted for.

I have, &c.,

88th Connaught Rangers, 2nd in Command
Frontier Armed Mounted Police.

From Major Moore, 88th Connaught Rangers, Frontier Armed Mounted Police, to Lieut-Colonel Lambert, Commanding Troops, Komgha.

SIR, Komgha, December 31, 1877.

1. I HAVE the honour to report that in obedience to your orders, I left Komgha yesterday at 11 A. M., with 40 men 88th Regiment, under Captain Acklom, and 21 Frontier Armed Mounted Police, under Sub-Inspector White, for the purpose of escorting the Mail from the Transkei past Draaibosch, the post drivers on the previous day having made three unsuccesful attempts to carry it through to Gray's Farm.

2. As we proceeded, the enemy's scouts were visible at many points on the ridge tops on both sides of the road, but chiefly on those of the north.

3. We advanced with great caution, the mounted patrols being thrown out to front, rear, and flanks.

4. When we approached Savage's Shop, six miles from Komgha, large bodies of Kaffirs were seen mustered about a mile to our right. i.e., north.

5. I was at that time just about to halt the Infantry and ride on to Gray's Farm with the mail bags and mounted escort. Fearing an attack, I selected a good defensive position on the crown of a hill about half-a-mile beyond Savage's Shop, and close to the road.

6. I then extended the Infantry behind some broken ground, with half the police dismounted, prolonging to the right; the remainder of the police holding the horses, and the ammunition carts were posted in the rear.

7. We were not kept long in suspense, as to the enemy's intention, for by the time our arrangements were completed, about 600 footmen and 50 mounted men (the latter took no part in the action) were seen advancing rapidly and in perfect order.

8. At about 500 yards we opened fire, and the bullocks ran off with our ammunition cart to our rear. The enemy continued to advance, and detached large bodies to both flanks, chiefly to our right, some men also getting to our rear, into whose hands the ammunition cart fell.

9. The fight lasted from 2.15 to 3.45 P.M., bodies of the enemy being within assegai-range, but of these very few were thrown, nearly all the Kaffirs opposed to us being armed with guns and rifles.

10. Our ammunition, of which the troops carried 40 rounds, beginning to fall short, matters were becoming critical, and we were obliged to have recourse to frequent bayonet charges, before which the enemy always gave way, we were careful to keep fast hold of the hill-top, and the Kaffirs at length began to retire from all sides, leisurely making their way in the direction from which they came.

11. We then commenced our march back, but on reaching Savage's Shop, hearing reinforcements were at hand, we halted: you with 50 men 88th Regiment, and about 15 mounted volunteers from Komgha, arrived about half-an-hour afterwards, i.e., 4.45. P.M.

12. The Connaught Rangers, boys though they are—not one of them had ever seen an enemy before—and some of the Frontier Armed Mounted Police, behaved admirably well, they repelled attack after attack from large bodies advancing in every direction, charging with a cheer when called on, and held final possession of the well-contested hill-top.

13. Their fire, however, was very mild, to which may be attributed the small number of the enemy accounted for. Of these 9 bodies were counted, but many more, and all the wounded, had been carried away during the several times the Kaffirs had over-run.

14. I have to deplore the large number of casualties among men and horses on our side, but I believe nothing could be done on our part by which they might have been lessened.

15. Captain Acklom was always on the fore front whenever an attack had to be repelled, or a body of the enemy dislodged, and he displayed sound judgment throughout.

16. 2nd Lieutenant Acton who had joined the service only a few days ago, showed great coolness, as did also Sub-Inspector White. Surgeon MacCartney, in medical charge, zealously performed his duties with the wounded under a heavy fire.

17. I have also to thank Deputy Commissary Warneford, Mr. White, Magistrates Clerk, whose coolness and courage were conspicuous, and Mr. Barnet, of Pagots Hotel, who fought throughout as volunteers.

I have, &c.,

88th Connaught Rangers, and 2nd in Command Frontier Armed Mounted Police.

From General Sir Arthur Cunynghame, K.C.B., to the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for War.

The Camp, Ibeki, Trans Kei,
January 15, 1878.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to inform you that I arrived here, at Ibeka, in Galekaland, on the 25th December, 1877, and that on the evening of the 26th, the last of the troops which I had collected for services here, reached this camp.

Early on the morning of the 27th, my forces, divided into three columns, advanced.

I enclose a full account of the operations which were performed by Colonel Glyn, in two separate letters, dated respectively, A, January 5, B, January 12.

The strength of these various forces I have previously enclosed. You will see by these reports that Galekaland has been entirely freed of the enemy as a body.

In consequence of information that I received that Gaikas in some strength had taken up a position on the Kei River, I directed Colonel Glyn and the larger portion of his troops to move upon Ibeka, having previously ordered a column, commanded by Major Hopton, of the 88th Regiment, to move from a position which they held near the Manubie Forest, to the Quintana Mountain.

The services of Major Hopton having been earnestly requested in the Cathcart District, I directed him to proceed there, and Major Owen, 88th Regiment, to relieve him. This was particularly unfortunate for so good an officer as Major Hopton, for the column which he commanded came into action on the following day.

Towards the termination of Colonel Glyn's operations in the eastern portion of Galekaland, he twice went up and down the Bashea River, keeping on its western bank, as I had given him orders not to cross, unless an imperative military necessity should arise to cause him to do so; and I desired to keep his column in hand, so that I might have the power of using its services on the western portion of Galekaland. The sequel proved that I judged correctly. According to my orders, he reached Ibeka on his return on the evening of the 18th.

Early on the morning of the 13th, he started with his column for Quintana, arriving at that mountain at about 2 o'clock.

Hardly had he halted, when he received information that a very large force of the enemy was collecting on the mountain sides, between Major Owen's column and the river Kei.

Without refreshment, he instantly fell in his troops and proceeded to the front, in support of Major Owen's column, and taking command of the whole.

I desire to say but a few words upon this action at present, because Colonel Glyn's official report concerning it has not reached me: but I enclose to you a copy of telegrams which I sent to His Excellency the Governor concerning it, given to me by two of my staff officers who were present.

Colonel Glyn's official report you will receive by the next mail.

The conduct of Colonel Glyn, Major Owen, the officers and men of this force, both that of Her Majesty's Army and Navy and the Colonial troops, would appear to have been excellent.

I have made further dispositions for attacking the enemy with a force commanded by Colonel Lambert, 88th Regiment, now stationed between the Komgha and the Chechaba Valley.

I have made arrangements for doing so this day, but as the post leaves Ibeka within one hour, I am unable to give you the result of any movement which may be taking place upon the other side of the Kei river, acting in combination with the forces on this side.

I have the honour to enclose a list of the names of those wounded in the action of the 13th of January.

I have, &c.,

A. J. CUNYNGHAME, General.

Telegrams.

From General Cunynghame, Ibeka, to His Excellency the Governor, King William's Town.

January 14, 1878.

Two columns of the Transkei Force came into action yesterday afternoon, Major Owen Commanding that in advance, Colonel Glyn at first in support, commanding the whole. They advanced towards the enemy about four miles south west of the Quintana mountain; the enemy met them in a determined way, and an action ensued, which lasted from about 4.30 till 6 o'clock; the number of enemy estimated at from 1,000 to 1,200; eventually the enemy was completely routed, and driven back towards the Kei, losing 50 men, our casualties being five wounded, two severely; guns and rockets well served and effective. Further reports will be sent.

January 14, 1878.

The four wounded men of the action of yesterday of the 88th Regiment are close to camp, 1 slightly, 3 severely, but great hopes are entertained of the recovery of even the worst case, a bad wound in the thigh. Lieutenant Loring, Naval aide-de-camp, and Lieutenant Coghill, aide-de-camp, were present at the action; the 7-pounder gun practice and the 9-pounder rocket practice was excellent, the 24-pounder rockets did great execution; 50 dead bodies of the enemy were counted after the action; there must be many more killed in the kloofs by the bursting of shells and rockets. The conduct of the commanders, the officers, non-commissioned officers and men of all services was steady and soldier-like. The enemy held their ground for three-quarters of an hour; then retreating, were pursued, till darkness obliged the troops to return; the action was about an hour and a-half duration.

Camp near Malam's Station.

SIR, January 5, 1878.

1. I HAVE the honour to report that on the 27th December, 1877, the various columns composing the Transkei Field Force under my command, marched from Ibeka and the Springs.

27th December, 1877. The Head Quarter Column encamped the first day about four miles beyond the Umzinzana, at the head of the Nxaxa.

2. At this station I found Captain Robinson's (of the Royal Artillery) Detachment who had cleared the Quora up to that point (vide previous despatch). Commandant Allan Maclean arrived that night, having made a successful patrol down the banks of the Kei along the sea coast, and up the banks of the Kobonaba, not having seen anything of the enemy.

3. 28th December, 1877. I next day marched to the Luzezi, where I received despatches from Majors Hopton and Elliott, commanding respectively the right and Bashee Columns.

4. The former reported having patrolled the Unyanime Valley, the latter, although opposed by the enemy in force, had pushed his way down the west bank of the Bashee to the Bongo mountain; the enemy's loss being considerable, but only a few casualties on his side.

5. I here ordered the Fingo Levy, under Captain Fuller, to work round to the mouth of the Nxaxa, to clear that part of the country, and be ready to co-operate with me in an attack which I intended making on the Manubie forest on Sunday.

6. Receiving information from scouts that the enemy was in force at the junction of Xabacase and Quora rivers, I started at daybreak next morning (29th December, 1877), and took up position on the high ground above the Quora river, sending out the Fingo Levies under Commandant Maclean and Captain Feldtman as advance guard; these soon came in contact with the enemy, and attacking them with spirit, after a sharp skirmish completely routed them, capturing 910 head of cattle and some horses; over 100 women and children were in the bush, and forwarded under Fingo escort to Ibeka. The captured cattle were distributed next morning amongst the native levies.

7. 30th December, 1877. The next day I advanced through the west side of the Manubie forest, saw but a few stragglers, and captured 58 heads of cattle; and towards the mouth of the Quora I met Captain Fuller, who had advanced with his Fingoes from the south side of the Manubie; he reported having exchanged sundry shots with the enemy, who were but few in number.

8. I had arranged that Major Hopton's column should work round one day's march behind me, so as to prevent the retreat of stragglers towards the Colony.

9. At this camp (Kabacase) on the edge of the Manubie forest, Captain Grenfell joined my force, and took charge of the Ordnance Department, and made himself most useful to me in many ways. I regret that he has been obliged to leave this day, the 6th January, in consequence of his services being required elsewhere.

10. It was reported to me by Major Hopton, whose column was following us up, that the spoor of the enemy with cattle was observed, having crossed in our rear towards Mapassa's people, I immediately sent off Captain A. Davies with 250 Fingoes to follow it up and report to me if they had joined Mapassa, or gone into the Colony. He had not returned when I crossed the Quora, and I presume he has rejoined Major Hopton's column, as I have heard nothing of him since.

11. 31st December, 1877. The next day Captain Nixon, R.E., having constructed a barrel raft, the whole of my column was enabled to cross the Quora river at its mouth without difficulty early the next morning (1st January, 1878), and took up a position a few miles from it, overlooking the river Injura.

12. I there met Captain Upcher's column, who had worked down the Ncauja Ridge, not meeting with much opposition, but thoroughly scouring the country, and had captured about 500 head of cattle. H.M.S. "Active" was seen steaming off the Injura river mouth. My signals were observed, and I effected communication with Commodore Sullivan, who returned at my request to the mouth of the Bashee.

13. Having heard of the Gaika disturbance, I ordered Major Hopton to remain on the south side of the Quora, to patrol and keep the country clear between that river and the Kei, and be in readiness to render assistance to the Colony if required.

14. I also sent Mr. J. Maclean's troops to assist the Fingoes on the Kei border towards the Tsomo river.

15. Finding the Injura impassable for wagons, I sent the infantry with spare ammunition, supplies, &c., under Captain Upcher, round by the Ncauja ridge to meet me at Mallin's Mission Station, whilst I went across the Injura with Robinson's artillery and 2 guns, and about 100 mounted men of the Frontier Armed Mounted Police, and 24th Regiment, and 1,300 Fingoes, taking three days' provisions.

16. Passing through a rough and broken country, I crossed the Inixweni river, and surmounting the ridge above it, camped at the head of the Nabaxa, the Fingoes proceeding in haste to make a reconnaissance of the Udwessa forest, which I intended to attack if my scouts reported the presence of the enemy.

The next morning (3rd January, 1878) I sent Robinson's artillery to Badi, and went across country towards the mouth of the Bashee, with escort of 100 mounted men, to meet Allan Maclean, and hear the result of his reconnaissance. He reported the forest clear, the enemy having hastily retreated, leaving their cattle behind them on the banks of the Nabaxana, which fell into my hands (500 head); a few of the enemy were shot.

18. Wishing to communicate with Commodore

Sullivan, I directed Commander Wright, R.N., to proceed to the mouth of the Bashee, with Maclean's and Fuller's Fingoes, the former to communicate with H.M.S. "Active," and the latter to guard the drifts; and returned to a place called Badi (4th January, 1878).

19. 5th January, 1878. Here I was joined by Major Boyes and a small force of Fingoes and Tembus; he brought me despatches from Major Elliott, who reported that he had marched his party to the Idutywa, and was awaiting orders.

20. On the next day I marched to a camp near the Shixleni river, passing Mallin's Mission Station; here there is good water, and I can strongly recommend it as a good position for an entrenched camp.

21. I can report that so far as large bodies of the enemy are concerned, Galeka land has been swept in every direction clear of the enemy; at the same time, owing to the physical features of the country, and the small force at my disposal, it is impossible in my opinion to prevent small straggling parties from being concealed in, or returning into the country.

22. At the same time I consider that with a line of entrenched posts to be occupied for some time in carefully selected spots, and patrolling constantly kept up, there need be no alarm at a repetition of the incursions of large armed bands of Galekas into the country.

23. The first of these posts will be formed this day, and the entrenchments commenced under the direction of Captain Nixon, R.E.

24. Since my assuming command, we have captured from the enemy about 2,360 head of cattle; all the new huts which have been constructed by the enemy, together with a number left standing in the last campaign, have been destroyed.

25. The loss of the enemy in the different engagements, including Major Elliott's action on the Bashee, the repulse of the enemy by Sub-Inspector Wylde at Mallin's Mission Station, and Captain Robinson's successful attack on the "Kobogaba" river, is reported to be 120 killed, the wounded it is impossible to estimate, as they are invariably carried off by the retreating enemy.

26. This satisfactory result has been obtained at the trifling loss to the forces under my command, of one European killed, one dangerously wounded, and 19 natives killed and wounded.

27. I should add that ever since the news of the outbreak in the Colony, the Fingo levies have solicited permission to return to defend their homes; to endeavour to check this natural wish on their part, I sent back Inspector Maclean with his troop of Frontier Armed Mounted Police, to proceed to the junction of the Kei and Xomo rivers, and by his presence there at once to check the raids from the Gaikas, and to inspire the Fingoes with confidence that their cattle and homes would be protected during their absence.

28. I subsequently gave permission to Captain Feldtman and his Company of 400 Fingoes to return for the same reason, on the distinct understanding that he would rejoin my column should his services be further required.

I leave for the Bashee mouth to-morrow, 7th January.

I have, &c.,

R. T. GLYN.

Colonel Commanding Transkei Field Force.

From Captain Upcher, 24th Regiment, Commanding Left Column, to Colonel Glyn, Commanding Transkei Forces.

Sir,

I HAVE the honour to report that on Thursday, 27th December, 1877, I proceeded from Ibeka with Left Column Transkei Field Force, strength as per margin.* Halted at 4 p.m., and pitched camp at Nquadu. Owing to the artillery horses being tired with their long march from King William's Town, camp was not struck on the 28th until 1 p.m., when the column moved on to Pullen's Post; here the force was augmented by Fingoes and Frontier Armed Mounted Police.

Spies reported Kaffirs on the Bonxa Bust on our left, and also in the direction of the Sugauya mountain, and towards the Cora river on our right flank.

Hearing from Inspector Hook that Major Elliott with strong force of Tembus and Police was at Wild's camp, I thought it best to communicate with him, and thinking he might be able to co-operate with us against any of the enemy, in the direction of Bonxa and the Xnabaga river, decided to patrol the next day in the direction of the Cora river.

At 4 a.m. on the 29th, started on patrol with 80 Imperial troops, Inspector Hook and 35 Frontier Armed Mounted Police, and 700 Fingoes. On reaching the Quaninga river, we found it impossible to take over artillery, and as Galekas in some strength were seen on the Sugauya ridge, I sent back the artillery with one Company of the 24th Regiment and mounted escort, and with the remainder of the force pressed forward as fast as possible.

The mounted Galekas were forced across the Cora river, the remainder broke up into small parties; those carrying weapons who were overtaken were disarmed, and the men, women, and children ordered on to report themselves to Colonel Eustace at Ibeka. We also captured about 480 head of cattle and 10 horses. Returned to camp at 5 p.m.

30th December. Started at 3.30 a.m. with Inspector Hook's Police and Captain Wood's Fingoes. Scoured the country from our camp; our left reaching the Shixiwi river, our right the Quaninga ridge; patrolled as far as the head of the Injura river. Galeka women reported the men to have left and crossed Bashee two days previous.

The infantry and artillery proceeded along the Quaninga ridge ready to support Police and Fingoes if required; the very rough country delayed the wagons, and the troops had to march back about three miles to join them, and again pitched camp about four miles west of Injura Bush. Heavy rains in the evening and all night. I sent out strong bodies of scouts to a considerable distance on both flanks to prevent any body of the enemy from heading back.

31st December. I gave the men a rest in the morning, Fingo scouts reporting nothing in sight. At one p.m., moved on about five miles on the ridge between Quaninga and Injura. Fingoes wounded two Galekas in the bush in the Injura valley.

1st January, 1878. Fingoes reporting spoor of men and cattle pointing towards the sea, I started with 80 men of the 24th, and marines, Inspector Hook's Police and Fingoes at 3.30 a.m., and patrolled to the mouth of the Shixiwi; here we fell in with parties of Feldtman's and Captain Pattle's Fingoes pressing forward towards the Udwessa.

Halted the infantry, and ordered Captain Wood's Fingoes forward to camp at the mouth of the Xnagaba river; the mountainous nature of the ground prevented the artillery and wagons from reaching the mouth of the Shixiwi river, and the infantry of left column passed the night in the head quarter-column camp. I regret to state that one of Lieutenant Kell's guns was damaged during this day's march.

During the march down to the sea the advanced Fingo skirmishers came in contact with small parties of the Galekas; no Fingoes wounded; reported eight of the enemy killed and wounded.

I wish to state that during the patrol I was much assisted by Inspector Hook, whose experience and knowledge of the country was most valuable.

Lieutenant Kell managed his guns admirably, and worked most energetically throughout, and I was most ably assisted by the other officers attached to the column.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) R. UPCHER, Captain Commanding Left Column.

Camp, Elliott's Division, Tshatshowya, near Fort Bowker.

SIR, January 1, 1878.

I HAVE the honour to report that I marched with this division at 8 P.M. on the 29th ultimo for the purpose of co-operating with Captain Upcher, and intercepting Galekas, should any be found in the Bamca bush, as already reported.

I proceeded about eight miles down the ridge, and halted for the night; marched at daylight the following morning, and took up a position on the east side of the Shixiwi, and watched the operations of Captain Upcher's division until I felt satisfied there were no enemies in the vicinity; and then started on a flying patrol; followed the direction of the river for about four miles; then turned towards the Bashee, crossed the Ngabaia river, and ascended the Mbongo mountains from the south (the most assailable point); scoured that mountain, including the west bank of Bashee, and both banks of the Ngabara river, as far as the strength of the division would permit. The country is unusually heavy and close; we met no enemy in Galekaland; with the exception of a few scouts (who were shot), but saw considerable numbers of them sitting on the spurs running up from the river in Bomvanoland. They succeeded in driving most of their cattle into the kloofs in that country, but we cut off 507 cattle and half a dozen horses, and about 100 goats.

The Bashee now is no barrier, being so low as to be crossable in many places with dry feet. If rain does not soon fall, this river will cease to run, as is the case with all smaller ones.

I got back to camp at 4 P.M. this day; all the division being tired out; during our last two patrols the marches have been very severe, many of the native horses knocking up, and having to be left behind, of course not to be again seen by their owners.

The only possible chance of coming into contact with the enemy is by rapid movement, and even then they will accept or reject battle at their own option. If pressed, they disperse and cross the country like baboons, to reassemble if needed at any point in a wonderfully short time; but I think they are now getting tired of being hunted and losing stock. A considerable portion of the country through which the division passed, had not been previously patrolled, and we destroyed a large number of huts.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) H. G. ELLIOTT,
Commanding.

To Colonel Glyn, or Officer Commanding Forces, Ibeka.

Camp, Elliott's Division, near Fort Bowker, on road leading to Bashee Mouth.

SIR, December 28, 1877.

I HAVE the honour to report that this division marched from Bashee mouth at 5 A.M. yesterday, and arrived here at 12.30 this morning. I did not leave a detachment to guard sea drift of Bashee; the utmost force I could have detached for that purpose would have been so insignificant as only to have courted attack; besides which I was not in a position to provision it. I explained this to Commodore Sullivan, who kindly offered to protect the drift for three or four days (until I could communicate with you). The "Active" commands the drift far more effectually than any land force would no.

I think it would be well if you were to communicate with the Commodore as early as possible, through the agent with Moni.

Skirmishing commenced at 6 A.M. yesterday between my advance and flank guard and the enemy, and was kept up without intermission till dark. The enemy were no sooner driven from one position than they took up another, wearying and worrying men and horses.

They suffered pretty heavy loss, 32 dead were counted (a son of Ngubo being amongst the number), and no doubt there were others

I regret having to report casualties in this force; private Edward Travers, No. 6 Troop, Frontier Armed Mounted Police, received a dangerous gunshot wound in the throat, and is now in a very precarious state; one native killed, and one wounded (two horses wounded).

There being no surgeon with the division, I pushed into camp last night for the purpose of having Travers attended to.

Men and horses require rest before again taking the field.

The enemy appear to have changed their tactics; although we saw them in large numbers, in no one place were they in strength; they occupy kloofs, bushes, long grass, and any cover they can find, always being ready to bolt when attacked. When pressed on the Bashee, they crossed into Bomvanoland, and looked at us, recrossing as soon as we retired. I was unable to get any stock, that is kept on the river, and driven over as soon as threatened, natives coming over from Bomvanoland to assist in hastening it through.

I think all standing camps should have a gun.

If the natives pursue their present mode of warfare, guns will be of little use in the field. What is required are long Sniders, long-range guns.

I think the enemy may be hemmed into the Blongo range, but to attack that position with my present force would, in my opinion, be to fritter away life without any adequate gain. I shall be ready to co-operate when directed.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) H. G. ELLIOTT,
Commanding.

To Colonel Glyn, Commanding Transkeian Forces, Ibeka.

From Colonel Glyn, Commanding Transkei Force, to His Excellency The General Commanding.

Camp, Ibeka,
January 12, 1877

YOUR EXCELLENCY,

I HAVE the honour to report that on the 6th instant, I started from my camping ground near the Shixiwi river, with the combined centre and left columns, and marched to Malam's Station, and camped for the night.

Captain Nixon, R.E., with his party had preceded me, and had selected a position and prepared plans for an entrenched post at that station.

I sent out a strong patrol of Fingoes under Captain Tainton, towards the Imbongo mountain.

I was here joined by Mr. Fuller of the Fingo Levies, who reported to me that Captain Wright, R.N., and Commandant Maclean, had failed to get on board the "Active," and that the boat which had come ashore with Lieutenant Davies, R.N., and some Port Elizabeth boatmen, had been capsized and one man drowned, and that these officers and men had been bivouacing on the beach.

I immediately sent off some mounted Fingoes to inform Maclean I was coming to his assistance; these men however returned next morning, with reports of the presence of the enemy in too strong force for them to attack.

Mr. Fuller also reported that his Fingoes, who were escorting 500 cattle lately captured, were constantly molested by small parties of the enemy. I ordered him to halt with his company and bivouac round his cattle about 3 miles from the camp.

The following morning, the 7th instant, I continued my march, having left Captain Nixon, R.E., and his party, and 100 men under Captain Rainforth, at Malam's Mission, also the two guns, Frontier Armed Mounted Police—towards the Bashee, having sent Captain Upcher with 100 men forward so as to arrive near Mr. Fuller's camp before day-break, in hopes that the enemy might make an attempt to re-capture the cattle about dawn; this however they did not do. I followed with the remainder about daylight.

The enemy could be seen in small parties all round the hills. The Fingoes pursued them all that day towards Bashee, and it is reported killed one man.

During our mid-day halt, Captain Wright, R.N., Lieutenant Davies, R.N., and the 7 men from the "Active," joined us, marching for Ibeka, accompanied by Commandant Maclean and Fingoes.

Captain Wright proceeded on horseback to Ibeka; the others were carried on with us on the wagons, and forwarded in my mule cart to Ibeka next day.

After a hot and wearying march of 20 miles, we arrived at a spot called Thompson's Shop; here the wagon road ends, and I bivouaced for the night.

The following morning, the 8th, I pitched camp, and sent to Major Elliott and informed him of my arrival, and sent out a patrol towards the Udwessa and burnt some kraals, but saw no enemy.

The following day, the 9th, I sent out patrols (Fingoes), to the east and west of our position; they returned in the evening, and reported that numbers of Galekas with cattle were to be seen in the kloofs on the Bomvana side of the Bashee river.

I received a letter from Major Elliott in the afternoon, informing me that Moni had promised to render every assistance to the troops should they cross the Bashee.

It was my intention as soon as Major Elliott had re-organized his column at Umtento, to direct him to work down the Bashee from the north, while I proceeded with my force from the Bashee mouth up the river, clearing the kloofs of enemy and cattle.

This I think would finally have crushed the remainder of the Galeka tribe.

That evening I received Your Excellency's despatch, directing the return of my column to Ibeka.

At daybreak on the 10th I struck my camp, and marched towards Ibeka Station, which march I accomplished in two days.

I sent 100 men 24th Regiment from Malam's Station to the Idutywa.

Major Owen, 88th Regiment, left my column on the morning of the 10th, to take command of the right column.

This officer has afforded me every assistance since my arrival in the Transkei, and I take this opportunity of expressing to Your Excellency my approbation of his services as Assistant Adjutant-General.

I enclose reports from Commandant Maclean, Captains Pattle and Tainton, of the Fingo Levies.

I have &c.
R. T. GLYN, Colonel Commanding
Transkei Field Force.

Camp, Ibeka,
January 12, 1878.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report for your information, that in compliance with instructions, I joined Captain MacGregor's patrol of about 250 Fingoes, at the Chachaba Drift on the Kei, on the 25th ultimo, for the purpose of patrolling the Kei and Coganaba rivers.

On 25th, the same day, I patrolled up a ridge, and struck the road leading from Quintane to Kei mouth, and encamped for the night; having found no men, but having seen many vacated kraals, which we burnt.

26th. Patrolled to the Ebb and Flow Drift on the Kei (leaving Mapassa's people on our right; having been ordered not to interfere with them), and then advanced in skirmishing order through the kloofs to the Kei mouth, where we remained for the night, having burnt down many kraals. Saw no enemy.

27th. The patrol extended in skirmishing order over a distance of about eight miles, and advanced to the Coganaba, where we encamped for the night, having seen no enemy, and burned several vacant kraals.

28th. Patrolled up the Coganaba to a place called Siboone, and met Feldtman's patrol. Leaving patrol there, I proceeded and joined your column. Returned to my patrol about noon, having received your order to join main column at Lusize, which I did, having seen no enemy. I burned several kraals.

29th. Marched to Manubie forest. Advance company of my men under Captain MacGregor; saw cattle on the Cora. I sent three companies in pursuit, and they returned in the evening, having captured over 900 head of cattle, killed five of the enemy, and followed up the retreating foe to the Injura river.

30th. Met Major Hopton's column at Lusize. Left there about noon, and crossed the Cora and Talani rivers, marching to the heads of the Injura rivers, where we found three head of cattle hamstrung; and encamped for the night. During the night sent on patrols in direction of Shixiwi, who returned before daybreak, reporting that they had seen nothing.

31st. Patrolled down the Cora, Talani, and Injura to the sea—capturing 300 head of cattle—and exchanging a few shots with stray Galekas in the bush.

1st January, 1878. Patrolled from Cora mouth to Shixiwi, having reported myself to you at Injura, where you instructed me how to proceed. Encamped for the night at Shixiwi, where I was joined by Pattle's division of Fingoes.

2nd. Patrolled through the country to the Nabara. Found nothing. Burned many kraals and some new huts.

3rd. Companies, under Captains Woods, Fuller, Davies, Tainton, and MacGregor, marched before daylight to operate against O'Dwessa Forest. Returned in the evening to my camp, reporting that they had been through different parts of the forest, and on the mouth of the Bashu and the Ebb and Flow Drift, and found no enemy; but Captain Davies' company found about 50 head of cattle concealed in the forest. A few Fingoes followed the spoor of the cattle from the Bashee Ebb and Flow Drift a short distance into Bomvana country; where they overtook cattle and several Galekas. They were, however, met by Langa, son of the chief Mooni, who informed them that those cattle had already been taken over by the resident (Flynn) on account of the Government, the previous day; and were not to be molested. The Fingoes left them in consequence.

4th. Sent out patrols up ridge in direction of Bongo, overlooking Bashee. Patrol returned in the afternoon, reporting that they had seen many new huts on the opposite side of the Bashee, and large herds of cattle which doubtless belonged to Galekas, who had passed over. No enemy on this side. Burned some kraals.

5th. Small parties of Fingoes sent out in different directions to scour the country. Captain Tainton and myself joining you at the Ebb and Flow on the Ncabara; then proceeded to the Bashee mouth with Captain Wright, R.N., and Captain Fuller, with an escort of six Fingoes, for the purpose of communicating with H.M.S. "Active." Remained there three days, through boat's crew under Lieutenant Davies being unable to return to ship owing to roughness of weather. One of the crew drowned in landing through boat upsetting.

7th. Captain Davies, with 140 Fingoes, joined me as escort.

8th. Started with Captain Wright, Lieutenant Davies, and boat's crew and escort, to join your column, which I expected at Fort Bowka. After a hard march—Lieutenant Davies and the others on foot—joined you at Badi, between Ncabara and Ncaba-naxa. Found that during my absence the remainder of my men, according to orders, had joined your column.

During the day we saw several Galekas in the distance and exchanged a few shots with those on our right.

I have, &c.,
A. C. MACLEAN,
Commandant Fingoe Levies.

To Colonel Glyn, Commanding Transkei Forces.

Head Quarter Camp, Ibeka,
SIR, January 12, 1878.

I HAVE the honour to report for the information of the officer commanding the forces, that according to your orders of the 6th instant, I proceeded with my company to the Bashee river drifts, opposite the Bongo mountains, for the purpose of stopping all traffic from and to Bomvanaland, and that on the afternoon of the same day, a number of Galikas, in all about 20 men, were sighted by us on approaching the Ngabara river, east side. The majority of these were mounted, and were busily engaged in carrying away grain; upon overtaking them and preventing their escape, I made enquiries and found that there were several of Sigidi's men amongst them: they all stated that they were Sigidi's people, and had crossed their boundary to attack Galekas about the Bongo and retake lost stock and revenge the death of their wives, &c., &c. Upon further enquiry I ascertained from these men, some of which are known to be Galekas, that Sigidi's people and Galekas have been and are still in constant correspondence. I told them to leave for their own country at once, as I had orders to shoot all Kaffirs who were not loyal, and were not willing to give themselves up to Government. Proceeding from this I encamped near the Bongo mountain, on the road leading to Sigidi's country from Galikaland.

On Monday the 7th, scouts were sent out early for the purpose of reconnoitring, and returned about mid-day, reporting that Galikas were in large numbers, together with their families, secreted in bush about the Bongo hills. I immediately sent word to them, and offered Government terms, which were to be accepted, if at all, that day and the following. So that on Tuesday, the 8th, six Galekas with their families came into camp and surrendered themselves to Government, and gave up one gun. I forthwith gave them a pass to proceed to Ibeka, and instructed them to report themselves to the authorities at Malam's Camp.

Wednesday 9th, scouts along Bashee river met and conversed with Galikas across river in Bomvanaland, who said that they were on their way to Mr. Cummings for the purpose of giving themselves up to Government, but were not allowed to cross the river, as my men had orders to fire upon all Kaffirs who attempted to do so. Large quantities of stock were seen in possession of these Galekas, and new huts were distributed on the hills on the east side of the Bashee overlooking the river.

Tuesday 10th, fresh spoors (foot prints) of stock that was driven through a drift on the Bashee leading from Bomvanaland to Sigidi's country above the position of my camp, were struck by a patrol of a few men, who followed the same up to Sigidi's boundary; upon reaching this, these men saw three horses and foal which they captured and brought into camp, reporting the case to me. On the following day, Friday the 10th, receiving your orders to proceed to Ibeka, I made an early move about 3 A.M. While halted at Shexini river, one man with a few companions of Sigidi's tribe came up, and produced a memorandum signed by Mr. Cumming, in charge, giving the number and description of horses taken by my men on the 10th instant; these being the same horses, I had them at once handed over to Klass, whose name was mentioned in the memorandum, and were taken away before my company left.

Camp at Ibeka, January 12, 1878.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report that I joined the head-quarter column in the camp near the Manubie Bush on the 29th ultimo, and at once took charge of the 2nd Division of the Fingo levy.

On the morning of the 30th, Captain Fuller's Company scoured the Manubie Bush without meeting with the enemy or seeing any cattle, and encamped for the night near the mouth of the Quore river, the remainder of the division passing through the bush close to the Quora river, and capturing on the opposite bank forty-seven (47) head of cattle.

At 4 A.M. on the 31st, I crossed the Quora river and scoured the country in the direction of the Jujugha and Shixini rivers, encamping for the night on the east bank of the Quora river.

On the 1st January, further patrols were made, and the country carefully examined as far as the Nquabara river, where a halt was made for the night.

During these two days, small parties of Galekas were occasionally seen, but they invariably attempted to escape; five were killed, and about twenty (20) horses, one gun and four hundred and sixty-five (465) head of cattle were captured, without any casualty on our side.

During the 2nd and 3rd of January, the Dwessa Bush was examined, and fifty head of cattle taken.

Captains Davies' and Fuller's Companies remained in the neighbourhood of the Bashee mouth till the 6th January, when the latter rejoined head-quarters at Malam's Mission Station, the former waiting close to the Bashee on the Nquebara ridge till the column halted there on the 7th instant. Small parties of the enemy were seen, and large numbers of cattle on the Bomvana side of the Bashee; but although a few shots were exchanged between Fingoes and Galekas, no serious collision took place.

On the 7th instant, Captain Tainton's Company which had joined the column on the 1st, proceeded to the Mbongo mountain. I enclose a report from Captain Tainton, giving details of his operations on that ridge.

The division after remaining for two days in camp on the Nquabara ridge, marched for Malam's Mission Station on the 10th instant, and from thence proceeded to Ibeka on the 11th instant, when the Fingoes were allowed to proceed to their homes, with orders to turn out at once if required.

Captain Feldtman's Company, which was temporarily attached to the 1st Division, left for Ibeka on the 5th instant.

Patrols were made along the banks of the Bashee on the 8th and 9th, but no cattle were captured, all having apparently been driven into Bomvanaland; a few Galekas were seen and three were killed, while two prisoners were made.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) F. PATLE,
Commanding 2nd Division,
Fingo Levy.

From Major Owen, 88th, Acting Assistant Adjutant-General, to His Excellency Sir Arthur Cunnyghame, K.C.B.

Camp, Nabaca Ridge,
SIR, Wednesday, January 8, 1878.

I HAVE the honour to send extracts from my diary from the last date forwarded, viz., Friday, the 4th January.

January 5. His Excellency the General and Staff arrived from the Ibeka, also Upcher's Column with the detached Infantry from the Head-quarter Column. Upcher halted on the banks of the river Shiclanie; capital water there. The General with Colonel Glyn and Staff, rode over to Malan's Mission Station, and selected the ground for the entrenched camp there. Mr. Finn arrived from Bomvanoland with two of Moni's sons, to have an interview with the General.

January 6. The General and Staff, including Grenfel, left for the Idutcheya this morning; we, I mean the combined columns (head-quarter and left), marched to Malan's Mission Station this day. We found Captain Nixon, R.E., busily engaged with the necessary preparations for the intrenchments there. Mr. Fuller, one of the Officers of the Fingo Levies, arrived with the intelligence that Captain Wright, R.N., and Commandant Maclean had failed in getting on board the "Active," and that the former had reported all the circumstances of the case in a letter to Colonel Glyn, which he (Mr. Fuller) had sent on to Ibeka, thinking the Colonel had gone there. On this information, Colonel Glyn at once despatched a party of Mounted Fingoes to inform Maclean that he was marching to his relief. This party however returned early the next morning, being scared with reports of the presence of the enemy, which they were not strong enough to tackle alone. Mr. Fuller also reported that his company of Fingoes had been harassed on their way down country by small bodies of the enemy; they (the Fingoes) were escorting 500 head of cattle taken by the Head-quarter Column in the operations at the Udwessa Forest when Commandant Maclean with his division of Fingoes made the reconnaissance from the south or coast side. Mr. Fuller had ridden on in advance of his party with this intelligence. Colonel Glyn at once ordered him to return to his company (they were about 170 strong), with instructions to halt about three miles from our camp, and bivouac round the cattle; calculating that the enemy would probably collect and attack this party at daybreak the following day, to try and recover their cattle. Colonel Glyn ordered Captain Upcher with a force of 100 men 24th Regiment, to start from our camp at 2 o'clock in the morning, so as to arrive at the Fingo camp just before daybreak. Colonel Glyn and Staff, with 120 mounted men, following an hour afterwards in advance of main body, and in time to be there just at the dawn. This idea was carried out, but without the satisfaction of coming to close quarters with the enemy. Captain Upcher could distinctly see at daybreak small bodies of the enemy sitting on the hills all around; they immediately fled in every direction on seeing the red-coats, and were pursued by the Fingoes for the remainder of the day, occasionally exchanging long shots with them; only one Galeka found killed; no casualty on our side. After a long, hot, and tedious march of some 20 miles, during which the 24th Regiment marched splendidly (not a man falling out), we arrived at a point the farthest southward in the Bashee direction on which wagons can travel; here we bivouacked for the night, pitching our camp the next day. Water here is a long way off, and scarce, on account of the recent drought, but at ordinary times it would be good and abundant. I must mention that about seven miles from this we met Captain Wright, R.N., and Commandant Maclean with 150 Fingoes, who had been bivouacking on the beach at the Bashee mouth for four days. Lieutenant Davies, of H.M.S. "Active," and a boat's crew, consisting of one signal boy of H.M.S. "Active," and 6 Port Elizabeth boatmen, had been upset in endeavouring to effect a landing at the Bashee mouth; the boat was completely turned over—the signal boy, I much regret to say, was drowned, and his body never seen afterwards; the boat was recovered, but it was impossible to get back again to the ship. Lieutenant Davies and crew had therefore to remain on the beach for four days and nights, with Captain Wright and Commandant Maclean; fortunately the latter had his Fingoes with him to guard the party in case of attack. This party were dependent entirely on H.M.S. "Active" for provisions, and by the great exertions of Commodore Sullivan, these were successfully conveyed to them in barrels, &c. After four days, seeing it impossible to get back to the ship, Captain Wright decided on marching the whole party back to Ibeka, and fortunately fell in with Colonel Glyn's column at the place we had halted for the men's dinner. Captain Wright being on horseback, went on at once towards Ibeka, but Lieutenant Davies and party being much fatigued with their march of 20 miles, gladly accepted Colonel Glyn's offer of riding in our wagons to the camp, and being forwarded on in Colonel Glyn's mule wagon the next day.

January 8. Lieutenant Davies and party left at daybreak this morning en route to Ibeka. Colonel Glyn sent a despatch to Major Elliott informing him of his arrival here with his column, and his readiness to cross the Bashee with it should it be necessary. Colonel Glyn sent out a patrol in the south-westerly direction; came across none of the enemy, but burnt several kraals.

January 9. We have not received any reply as yet from Major Elliott: expect to do so some time this afternoon. Two patrols at work to-day at the east and west of our position.

I have &c.

(Signed) ARTHUR ALLEN OWEN,
Major 88th, and Acting Assistant Adjutant-General Transkei Field Force.

From General Sir A. T. Cunynghame, K.C.B., to the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for War.

Ibeka, Transkei,
January 20, 1878.

Sir,

1. I HAVE the honour now to place before you a full report of the last operations performed by the combined forces under my command, now in Galekaland.

2. On the 5th instant, I visited the columns which I had detached to the neighbourhood of the Bashee, and on the following day I returned to Ibeka, I then learnt that large bodies of the enemy, consisting, as it was supposed, of rebellious Gaikas from the Colony, had taken up their position in the large wooded kloofs on the Kei river, and in the Chechaba valley. I had previously ordered a small column under Major Hopton, to take position near the Quintana mountain, to watch the Kei river, and I now at once directed the return of Colonel Glyn and his column to Ibeka from the Bashee, leaving a detachment towards the east of Galekaland in the Idytwa.

3. The troops under Colonel Glyn had cheerfully undergone excessive fatigues in the ravines of the Bashee, but with alacrity he rejoined my camp, on the evening of the 11th. Early on the morning of the 13th the troops marched to unite with the Quintana column, which was now under command of Major Owen—Major Hopton having been selected for special service on the other side of the Kei.

4. Scarcely had Colonel Glyn reached his camp, than my aide-de-camp, Lieutenant Coghill, reached him from me with certain intelligence of an intended attack by the enemy (vide enclosures A from Captain Robinson, and B from Major Owen). Recommencing his march with speed, he joined the column in advance, and united himself with Major Owen's column, and thus, it is most satisfactory to me to record, I was enabled to unite, precisely at the moment it was required, forces which, two days before, were so widely apart.

5. Major Owen reported that the enemy, from the forenoon had been gathering on the heights on his front, and requested permission to advance, which was granted, and the advance of the entire force proceeded.

6. The enemy perceiving this, were not slow to take the initiative, but came forward in large masses, in a determined way at a run. I now refer you to enclosure C of Colonel Glyn's report as to the action, and which is perfectly explanatory of the whole of the proceedings. Perfect success was secured to Her Majesty's arms, and which, but for the advancing darkness, would have proved even more disastrous to the enemy.

7. It is my duty to record for your especial consideration, and that of His Royal Highness the Field Marshal Commanding-in-Chief, the conduct on this, and all other occasions in which he has been employed, of Colonel Glyn—his energy, his forethought, his care of his troops, and readiness on all occasions to assist me in carrying out this, and every operation which has been placed in his hands.

8. To Major Owen my thanks are particularly due; he has assisted me in the staff duties of the army, both in the cis-Kei and trans-Kei, in a very satisfactory manner, constantly accompanying the column in their harassing evolutions; and Colonel Glyn represents to me that nothing could have exceeded the steadiness with which he conducted the advance of the young soldiers at the battle of Newmaka. Captain Upcher, commanding the left column, on this and previous occasions, has well performed his duty.

9. Most valuable assistance was rendered by the Naval Brigade under Lieutenant Cochran, and the Royal Marines under Lieutenant Dowding.

10. I beg to record my gratitude to Commodore Sullivan, C.B., for having placed them at my disposal: the rocket practice especially was most effective.

11. To the officers of my personal staff I am grateful, especially for their ready performance of the extraneous duties which I have been obliged to place under their charge;—taking charge of the Ordnance Department, Supply and Quartermaster-General's Department, which were severally performed by my Senior aide-de-camp Captain Grenfell, and Lieutenant Coghill; and I am happy to observe the terms in which Colonel Glyn records his thanks to Lieutenant Loring, my Naval aide-de-camp, for his services in the action.

12. Great credit is due to the Native Levies under Commandant Allan Maclean and Captain Feldtman (a native chief), for the admirable way in which they assisted on this occasion.

13. Finally, my thanks are due to the troops for the way in which they performed their duty when under fire, when employed against Her Majesty's enemies.

14. I enclose a list of the wounded, who are doing well.

15. Private John Kelly, 88th Regiment, has had his leg amputated at the hip, but there are hopes of his recovery.

16. I have received intelligence of further operations having taken place in the Chechaba valley, a column under command of Colonel Lambert, 88th Connaught Rangers, being there; and when I receive a detailed report, I will forward it for your information.

17. I cannot close this report without alluding to Lieutenant Kell, 88th Regiment, who,—an infantry officer,—has got a field division of guns in excellent form for the field, superintending their horses and equipment, and who did good service on this occasion.

I have, &c.,
A. T. CUNYNGHAME,
General Commanding.

January 15, 1878.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report that at 11.30 A.M. on the 12th instant, I was informed by Mapassa, that the enemy had crossed the Kei near Tychaba, for the purpose of attacking Major Owen's camp. I at once sent an express to warn him.

I insisted upon Mapassa taking precautions to have the drifts watched, which he did; and one of the drifts being attacked, he drove the enemy back, killing two men.

On arrival of Mr. Lundall, at 9 A.M. on the 13th instant, I returned to Major Owen's camp, and awaited your arrival there.

Being placed in command of the camp when you went out to attack the enemy, I took every precaution for its safety, but the rapid and complete success of your force was such that the camp was never menaced.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) J. C. ROBINSON,
Captain R.A., Commanding Artillery,
Frontier Armed Mounted Police.

To Colonel Glyn,
Commanding Troops, Transkei.

Camp, Cologha,
SIR, January 14, 1878.

1. I HAVE the honour to report for your information, that on Sunday morning, at 2.30 A.M., I received a despatch from Captain Robinson, R.A., who was temporarily Acting Resident at Mapassa's location, that the column under my command was to be attacked; that the enemy in strength were crossing the Kei; and that I might expect them at any moment. I at once sent on an express to His Excellency the General, reporting this, and sent my staff officer, Lieutenant Thirkill, 88th Regiment, to quietly warn the men to be prepared to turn out at a moment's notice.

2. At daybreak I could distinctly see them mustering on a hill, some two miles from my encampment.

3. Knowing that Colonel Glyn, with a column, was on the march from Ibeka, and that His Excellency the General would be certain to communicate the purport of my report to him, I waited Colonel Glyn's arrival, to obtain permission to attack the enemy at once. He arrived at the camp at 3.45 P.M. Having explained to Colonel Glyn my situation, and the position of the enemy, he at once ordered me to move forward to attack: my columns had been waiting under arms for this purpose from the time my scouts had reported the advanced guard of Colonel Glyn's column were in sight.

4. Briefly, the dispositions of my attacking column were as follows:—

On the right, infantry, 1st Battalion, 24th Regiment, under Lieutenant Cavaye, and blue jackets with rockets, under Sub-Lieutenant Cochrane, R.N; on the left, infantry, 88th Connaught Rangers, under Lieutenant Thirkill; and rocket party, under Lieutenant Main, R.E. The two 7-pounder guns, R.A., under Lieutenant Kell, 88th Connaught Rangers, were at first distributed, one on the right, and one on the left; but eventually both guns were brought to the left. The troop (No. 9) of Frontier Armed Mounted Police, under Inspector Bourne, on the extreme left, with Captain Feldtman's company of Fingoes on the extreme right, to protect flanks.

5. It is unnecessary for me to describe the subsequent movements of the force which took place under your command, and which resulted in the complete defeat of the enemy, after some two hours' hard fighting.

6. I would particularly wish to mention the good service performed by Lieutenant Main, R.E., in charge of the rocket trough, and of Sub-Lieutenant Cochran, R.N., in charge of the 24-pounder rocket tube; their shooting was excellent, and its effect equally good on the enemy: also Lieutenant Kell, 88th Connaught Rangers, in command of two 7-pounder guns of the R.A., attached to my force. The shell firing was most effective, and conduced greatly to the success of the action. No. 9 Troop of Frontier Armed Mounted Police were first on the scene of action, and under the command of Inspector Bourne, did excellent service. Lieutenants Cavaye and Thirkill, commanding respectively the infantry of the 1st Battalion, 24th, and 88th, displayed perfect coolness and good judgment in the handling of their force, exposed to a severe fire of musketry. Captain Feldtman with his sons are staunch allies, and with their Fingoes attached to my column did good service.

7. I enclose a rough pencil sketch, kindly executed by Lieutenant Main, R.E., which will describe the general features of the position occupied respectively by ourselves and the enemy.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) ARTHUR ALLEN OWEN, Major
88th Connaught Rangers, Commanding Right Column, Transkei.

To Colonel Glyn, 24th Regiment, Commanding Transkei Field Force.

---

From Colonel Glyn, Commanding Transkei Field Force, to Deputy-Adjutant General, King William's Town.

Camp,
SIR, January 17, 1878.

1. I HAVE the honour to state for the information of His Excellency the General Commanding, that on Sunday last, January 13, when in camp near Quintana mountains, I received a report from Lieutenant Coghill, that information had been received from Major Owen, commanding right column, that Kaffirs were in force at Cologha, and that he expected an attack on the camp.

2. I immediately struck tents, and proceeded to Major Owen's assistance.

3. On arriving at his camp, I found his column already prepared to move, and he informed me that Kaffirs were assembling in force on a hill about two miles from the camp, on the Kei river side.

4. I immediately ordered an attack, and leaving Captain Robinson, R.A., two guns, with 100 about Frontier Armed Mounted Police to defend the camp, Major Owen's strength, as per margin *, advanced towards the enemy.

5. The ground was an undulating plain with deep kloofs on both sides, a small valley separating my position from that of the enemy; on the left front a rocky ravine, covered with long grass, stones, and tangled underwood, afforded excellent cover for the enemy; the right was more open, and ended in a deep wooded kloof.

6. Major Owen, having my order to advance, arranged his column and attacked in the following order:—

On the right, one company, 1st Battalion, 24th Regiment, under Lieutenant Cavaye, 1st Battalion 24th Regiment; next to them, the Naval Brigade with 1 rocket tube, under Lieutenant Cochran; in the centre, the guns with Royal Artillery, under Lieutenant Kell, Connaught Rangers; next, rocket tube and party, 1st Battalion 24th Regiment, under Lieutenant Main, R.E., and one company, Connaught Rangers, under Lieutenant Thirkill, on the left. In the centre were about 30 of Commandant Maclean's Fingoes, who assisted in drawing the guns, &c.

7. On the way down I met Captain Feldtman, who told me he arranged to make his Fingoes retire to draw the enemy on; this he did, his Fingoes retiring in a wooded kloof on the right, where, in company with Commandant Maclean's men, they did good service.

8. On the force advancing, I placed Inspector Chalmer's troop at the head of the kloof on the right to guard my right rear, in a position to prevent the enemy from threatening my rear, or making an attack upon the camp.

* Detachment, 1st Battalion, 24th Regiment, 1 officer, 60 men; 88th Connaught Rangers, 1 officer, 50 men; Frontier Armed Mounted Police Troop, 2 officers, 51 men; Royal Artillery, 10 men; Naval Rocket Party, 1 officer, 12 men —total, 5 officers, 183 men.

Inspector Bourne was placed in a similar position on the left in direct eschellon, on the left of the advancing line, Captain Upcher with two Companies 24th Regiment, and Royal Marines under Lieutenant Dowding, R.M.L.I., I placed in support, under cover of some rising ground in rear of the line.

9. On mounting the crest of the hill, Major Owen ordered his men to halt and lie down. The enemy who were advancing, paused directly we appeared, and exactly at 4.30 P.M. the action commenced by a rocket fired by Lieutenant Main, R.E., which was a little high; the second was most effective, lodging in the centre of the advancing enemy, and causing them to divide: they rushed rapidly down the kloofs on the right and the left, and commenced a most determined attack on our front and flanks, creeping up in the long grass, and mounting the crest of the hill. Inspector Bourne's troop of Frontier Armed Mounted Police, commanded the kloof by which they advanced, and immediately opened fire; the whole line then advanced and engaged the enemy.

10. Observing that the enemy were concentrating on his left, Major Owen with the Connaught Rangers, changed his front half-left, and attacked the strong position on the left, already described, with a rush and a cheer.

Finding his men were suffering from the severe fire, I ordered Captain Upcher's force up at once; they doubled up, and flanking the position occupied by the enemy, opened a hot fire. Major Owen requiring more men, I reinforced his Company of Connaught Rangers by the Mounted Infantry, 24th Regiment, under Lieutenant Clements, who rushed down a small dip on Major Owen's left, and their effective fire combined with the Connaught Rangers', and Captain Upcher's flank movement, caused the enemy to retreat. The Company 24th Regiment on the right, under Lieutenant Cavaye, with rocket party of blue jackets under Lieutenant Cochran, R.N., were also hotly engaged, out-flanked the enemy on the right, and they retreated in disorder, the guns and rockets playing on them as they retreated, causing them much loss.

11. Lieutenant Kell finding the left flank most threatened, moved his guns into a position to command that flank, and subsequently moved to the various points where he found his fire would be most effective.

12. On the extreme right-rear the enemy, who attempted to turn our flank on that side, were driven back by Inspector Chalmer's troop of Frontier Armed Mounted Police.

13. The Fingoes under Commandant Maclean and Captain Feldtman were at this time most useful in following up the retreating enemy.

14. At 6 P.M. finding that the enemy was completely routed, and being some distance from our camp, and the night drawing on, I gave the order to re-assemble and return to camp, which was reached about 7.15 P.M.

15. From the nature of the country it was impossible to ascertain the exact loss of the enemy; 50 dead bodies were, however, counted, and numbers of wounded were seen being carried off the field.

16. I regret to have to report that four of the Connaught Rangers were wounded, two severely, and one Fingoe; return appended.

17. I attach reports received from Major Owen and Captain Upcher, commanding the column engaged, also one from Captain Robinson, R.A.

18. I fully agree in the remarks made by Major Owen and Captain Upcher on the conduct of the officers under their command, and I beg to bring them to the notice of His Excellency.

19. To Major Owen my thanks are due for the cool way in which he commanded his men under close fire. I desire to bring to the notice of His Excellency that Major Owen, assisted by Private Prendergast, Connaught Rangers, removed Private Travers, Connaught Rangers, who was severely wounded, when in front of the line, from under a very heavy fire.

20. Captain Upcher promptly obeyed my orders, and by his flank movement, conduced greatly to the success of the day.

21. To Captain Robinson, R.A., my thanks are due for the energy displayed by him in obtaining information of the gathering of the natives and of their intention to attack.

22. Captain Nixon, R.E., Lieutenant Morshead, 24th, Lieutenant Coghill, A.D.C. 24th, and Lieutenant Hodson, A.D.C. 24th, served on my personal staff, and my thanks are due to them for the assistance they gave me in carrying the various orders to different parts of the field.

23. Lieutenant Main's, R.E., rocket practice was excellent, and under the disadvantage of a defective rocket-trough, his effective fire was worthy of remark.

24. Lieutenant Kell, C.R., and the party of Royal Artillery under his command, worked their guns energetically, and inflicted serious loss on the enemy.

25. The mounted infantry 24th Regiment were well led by Lieutenant Clements, 24th.

26. The troops were ably assisted by the Naval Brigade under Lieutenant Cochran, R.N., and Royal Marine Light Infantry under Lieutenant Dowding; Lieutenant Loring, Naval A.D.C. attached to my personal staff, was also useful.

27. Inspectors Chalmers and Bourne, and the Frontier Armed Mounted Police under their command, did good service in the positions in which I placed them.

28. To Commandant Maclean of the Fingoe Levy, my thanks are due, for his assistance during the engagement.

29. Captain Feldtman and his Levy also rendered me great assistance in following up the retreating enemy.

30. The officers of the Medical Staff rendered every assistance.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) R. T. GLYN, Colonel, Commanding Transkei Field Force.

From Officer Commanding Head 2nd Column, to Officer Commanding Transkei Field Force.

Camp, Croucha Shop,
SIR, January 17, 1878.

I HAVE the honour to report that the column* under my command, composed of detachments from 1st Battalion, 24th Regiment, and Royal Marines, Frontier Armed Mounted Police Troop, and Inspector Chalmer's Troop, Frontier Armed Mounted Police, marched from Ibeka at 5 A.M.,

* Detachment 1st Battalion 24th Regiment, 2 officers, 137 men. Royal Marine Light Infantry, 1 officer, 21 men. Frontier Armed Mounted Police, Artillery Troop, 2 officers, 41 men. Frontier Armed Mounted Police, 4 officers, 94 men.

13th January. After marching about six miles, halted two hours for breakfast, and then proceeded past the Centain mountain, and had halted and commenced pitching camp and cooking men's dinners, when a messenger from Major Owen, giving information concerning the movements of the enemy, arrived. Tents were at once struck, and column hurried forward.

2. On arrival at camp of right column the troops at once moved forward, with the exception of Frontier Armed Mounted Police Artillery, which remained to protect camp.

3. Inspector Chalmer's troop was ordered to prevent enemy from outflanking our right, which at first it seemed probable would be attempted.

4. The detachment of 24th Regiment and Marines were ordered by Colonel Glyn to be kept in hand, and strike in when required. Soon after hearing the musketry fire, running up from right to left, Captain Nixon, R.E., brought orders from Colonel Glyn to move those troops towards the left flank. On coming over a sharp rise we could see the enemy in considerable numbers in a strong position; they opened a heavy musketry fire on us, and the 88th Detachment on our immediate right.

5. The detachment extended from its right, and by a rapid advance, firing, succeeded in driving back the enemy in confusion. Inspector Bourne, Frontier Armed Mounted Police, on our left, asking for re-inforcements, Lieutenant Ansty with one company, 1st battalion, 24th Regiment was ordered to strengthen him. Owing to the formation of the ground, we were able to flank the enemy immediately in front of the 88th, and by our cross fire drive the Kaffirs from their position.

6. The men of the 24th Regiment and Royal

Marines behaved splendidly; in spite of their long march, they came on for the last quarter of a mile at a steady double, and when hotly engaged did not fire except when ordered.

The total number of rounds fired by the detachment was 1,700. Lieutenants Dowding, Royal Marines, and Ansty, 1st battalion, 24th Regiment, commanded their companies with the greatest coolness and judgment, and both non-commissioned officers and men did their duty right well.

I have, &c.,

1st Battalion, 24th Regiment,
Commanding 1st and 2nd Column.

Camp, Cologha,
January 17, 1878.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report that on Tuesday, January 15th, I left Nynumaxa at 4 A.M., with the columns under my command, with the intention of co-operating in the attack of the Chachaba valley by the columns advancing.

At about 7.30 the column arrived at the point of a ridge overlooking the Kei, and affording a good view of Chachala valley on either side.

I halted the guns under Captain Robinson further back on the ridge, in a position which commanded a long reach of the Kei river.

Kaffirs being reported in the bush below, I ordered one of the guns down, and shelled the bush.

At about 8.30 heavy firing was heard from the other side of the Kei. Kaffirs appeared on the other side driving their cattle along the ridge towards the drift, and soon tried to cross with their cattle, but were driven back by the rocket-party Naval Brigade.

I despatched some Fingoes under Commandant Maclean after the cattle, supported by Inspector Chalmer's troop, Frontier Armed Mounted Police.

They returned in the evening, having captured about 1,000 head of cattle, having killed seven Kaffirs, and losing three Fingoe horses killed two Fingoes wounded in crossing the drift.

Seeing part of the Komgha column on the other side of the Kei, I requested Commandant Maclean to communicate with them. He did so, and found them to be volunteers under Captain Brabant, from East London, of whose co-operation in the attack I had not been informed.

Of Colonel Lambert's column I saw nothing. Finding I could not be of any further use, I returned to my camp.

Sir,

1. I HAVE the honor to report that this morning a large body of cattle having been seen by Major Owen's patrol being driven into a kloof on the Colonial side of the Kei, just above Ebb and Flow drift, I ordered Commandant Maclean and the Fingoe levy to go in search of them.

2. He crossed at the Ebb and Flow and entered the kloof on the lower side, being supported by Major Owen's guns and rocket-tube. On the approach of the Fingoes, the Kaffirs left the kloof with most of their cattle; the mounted Fingoes pursued them; as the Kaffirs left the kloof, a sharp skirmish ensued, in which four Gaikas were killed; the Fingoes returned, having captured 430 head of cattle and 700 sheep.

An attempt was made by the Kaffirs to re-capture their cattle, which proved unsuccesful, they being driven back by the Fingoes.

A large number of women were found in the bush, who stated that they had been driven out of the Chachaba the day before.

I have, &c.,

From Colonel Glyn, Commanding Transkei, to Deputy Adjutant-General, King William's Town.

Camp, Cologha,

SIR, January, 18, 1878.

1. I HAVE the honour to report for the information of His Excellency the General Commanding, that on the 16th January, I despatched Major Owen's column to a position near the Ebb and Flow drift, distance about half-a-mile from the Kei river, from which he could prevent the enemy from driving their cattle across.

2. I sent Captain Upcher and 50 men of the 24th Regiment, at 2 A.M., for the purpose of occupying the ground before daylight, and observing the movements of the enemy; at daylight he came upon a few men, who on being fired at retreated into the bush.

3. On arriving on a small ridge overlooking the Kei. I observed Kaffirs driving cattle down the drift away from Captain Brabant's column, which we saw on the heights opposite.

4. On seeing our force the Kaffirs deserted their cattle in the bed of the river, and a body of them crossed and secreted themselves in the wooded kloofs on this side of the river.

5. I sent Commandant Maclean's Fingoes round from this side to attack the Kaffirs and take their cattle, snpporting them by Captain Robinson's guns, which shelled the bush.

6. The Fingoes skirmished down until they reached the bed of the river, killing nine Kaffirs, and eventually taking the whole of their cattle, 700. They then crossed the river, and captured two herds of cattle on the other side.

7. Abont this time we saw Captain Brabant's Fingoes engaged with the enemy a little further down the river. I am unable to say with what result, as they did not communicate.

8. A good many women and children were seen in the bush.

9. It being an intensely hot day, I waited till the cool of the evening, and returned to my new camp about five miles from the Ebb and Flow drift.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) R. T. GLYN, Colonel Commanding Transkei Field Force.

Board of Trade, Whitehall Gardens, February 26, 1878.

THE Queen has been graciously pleased to confer the Albert Medal of the Second Class on—

JOHN MITCHELL, Carpenter, WILLIAM STEWART, Sailmaker, and CHARLES WILSON, A.B, late Seamen of the "Conference," of Bristol.

The following is an account of the services in respect of which these decorations have been conferred:—

On the 9th May, 1877, the "Conference" and

"Avonmore" and twenty-five or thirty other vessels, were lying at anchor off the village of Huanillos, a short distance from the shore, loading with guano. The village itself stands on a platform or ledge of the mountains, about thirty feet above the sea-level, and the mountains rise precipitously to a height of 5,000 feet. According to the statement of Captain George Williams, the late Master of the "Conference," at about 8.30 P.M., the weather being dark and gloomy, with a calm sea, a severe shock of an earthquake was felt. The ship trembled so much that the masts and yards seemed to be coming down, and the stern moorings parted. The noise of the earthquake, as it shook the mountains, was very great. Large boulders were rolled down the side of the mountains, and, striking against each other, emitted sparks of fire, while the cries of the guano-diggers on the mountains, who were in danger of their lives, increased the terror of the scene. The earthquake was followed by three distinct tidal-waves, which rolled in from seawards at intervals of about ten minutes, rising about fifty feet, as seen by the marks on the shore, causing many vessels to break their moorings and drag their anchors, and submerging the village of Huanillos. The first tidal-wave drove two vessels across the bows of the "Conference," and carried away her bowsprit and jibboom. The second tidal-wave carried away her starboard bower-chains; and at the same time the American vessel "Geneva" was driven against the fore-rigging of the "Conference," damaging her severely. She then commenced to drift towards the rocks. The "Geneva" was then carried back, and again driven against the "Conference," cutting the latter down amidships, four or five planks below the covering-board. Then a vessel which afterwards proved to be the "Avon-more," was seen for a moment as she was driven at a furious rate across the bows of the "Conference." Almost immediately her anchor-light disappeared, and the cries of drowning people were heard. It was at this time when, as it is stated, "everything was calculated to destroy the strongest nerves," when ships, out of the power of human control, were ranging about in all directions, the sea confused and turbulent, and the "Conference" herself badly damaged, that the Master called for volunteers from his crew to man the jolly-boat. After some hesitation, JOHN MITCHELL, WILLIAM STEWART, and CHARLES WILSON volunteered their services. They rowed away into the darkness, which was then described as so great that objects were invisible at a distance equal to the ships' length, and after some time succeeded in finding and rescuing the Master of the "Avonmore" and his child, the Second and Third Officers, and an A.B. Fortunately there was no further tidal-wave, and when the boat returned to the "Conference" the disturbance of the sea had considerably abated, but the rest of the crew were about to abandon the "Conference" in their other boat, as she was then close on the rocks, with her stern and bows knocked in. Both boats then rowed out to sea. Four vessels, including the "Avonmore" and the "Conference," were totally wrecked that night at Huanillos, five were uninjured from being moored outside of the others, and all the rest were more or less damaged. Numerous lives were lost.

The Board of Trade have further determined to recognized the great bravery and presence of mind shown by Captain Williams, of the "Conference," by a suitable present.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MARCH 26, 1878.

Foreign Office, March 25, 1878.

THE Earl of Derby, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has received from Her Majesty's Consul at Galatz, the following translation of a Notice issued by the Captain of the Port, notifying the reopening of the Navigation of the Danube:—

(Translation).

The Captain of the Port, Galatz, Roumania.

NOTICE.

IN conformity with an Order of the Minister for Foreign Affairs, No. 2476, received this day, the Captain of the Port informs persons interested in shipping that, in consequence of the cessation of hostilities and of the conclusion of peace, the navigation of the Danube is free, as under ordinary circumstances, at the same time he brings to the notice of shipowners, that as torpedoes have not been removed from certain localities, navigation will be at their own risk and peril.

The Minister has taken measures for the early removal of these torpedoes.

War Office, March 25, 1878.

DESPATCHES and their Enclosures, of which the following are copies, have been received by the Secretary of State for War from the General Officer Commanding the Troops in South Africa :—

King Williamstown,
SIR, February 15, 1878.

1. THE forces under my command have again been successful in the Transkei.

2. The battle of Quintana, fought on the 7th February—a full report of which I have now the honour to enclose—has proved the most disastrous to the enemy of any yet fought in South Africa. Colonel Eustace, late Resident with Kreli, states that the Gcalekas acknowledge to severer losses at Quintana than at any previous action.

3. The bodies of nearly 200 of the enemy found in front of and about the position, and more than an equal number afterwards discovered in the neighbouring kloofs and ravines, speak clearly of their losses ; while the wounded, who were carried out of the action, attest the severity of their punishment.

4. I have the honour to refer you to Enclosure A, from Colonel Glyn, Commanding in the Transkei, reporting as to the steps he took in the formation of the column which he placed under the command of Captain Upcher, 1–24 Regiment. I am of opinion that great credit is due to Colonel Glyn for the selection of the position it held, and his formation of the force.

5. With the concurrence of the Right Honourable Sir Bartle Frere, I had directed an entrenchment to be formed near Quintana Mountain. Its position had been selected, and the entrenchment commenced under the able superintendence of Captain Nixon, R.E.

6. It was known that Kreli and Sandilli were close by, in force ; but it was difficult to judge which of the positions, Quintana or Ibeka, the enemy would attack, though the dispositions made by Colonel Glyn were so good as equally to ensure success at either. The Artillery, under Captain Robinson, R.A. [vide D], were placed midway at Tutura, and he was able to assist at the termination of the action.

7. In the Enclosure B, you will find a full account of the action by Captain Upcher, who commanded, and I beg especially to call your attention to the manœuvre as described in paragraph 5, viz. : "Both these Officers had orders to fire and then retire, to bring the enemy within range of the camp. These orders were carried out most satisfactorily." The value of this manœuvre cannot be over-estimated ; as the best mode of warfare with the Kaffirs is to allow them to appear to gain, at first, some advantage in the attack, merely to lure them on to their destruction.

9. It will be seen how skilfully the 9-pounder gun was worked under Sub-Inspector Cochrane, Frontier Armed and Mounted Police ; and the 7-pounder, in charge of the Cape Town Volunteer Artillery, ably directed by Sergeant Breda. This latter force relieved, only a week before the action, a portion of the same corps which had distinguished itself, under Lieutenant Stigant, at Umzinzana.

10. The Naval Brigade, under Lieutenant Hamilton, Royal Navy, (Her Majesty's ship "Active"), with the 24lb. rockets, to quote the words of the despatch, "did great service."

11. I am gratified to see that every prominence was given to such of the Colonial forces as were in the action, and they well performed their duty —doing, in every instance, credit to the Colony.

12. I beg to call your attention to the enclosure C, detailing the movements of the cavalry, and a force commanded by Captain Grenfell, A.D.C., Acting Staff Officer in the Transkei, who appears to have successfully conducted the operations entrusted to him by Captain Upcher. The Frontier Light Horse, attached to this force, commanded by Lieutenant Carrington, 1–24th Regiment, proved most valuable, exactly at the moment when their services were required. They appear to have been led into action with that spirit and energy which is characteristic of that Officer. The Frontier Armed and Mounted Police, under Sub-Inspector Holden—especially a portion under Sub-Inspector Hatton—are reported by Captain Grenfell to have "held their position with determination."

13. The high state of drill and discipline, and the admirable instruction of the 1–24th Regiment, bids me endorse the sentiments of Captain Upcher regarding the excellence of their skirmishing, thereby inflicting great loss on the enemy.

14. The Transport, Commissariat, and Medical arrangements were such as could be desired. Dr. Hall showed readiness and ability in the discharge of his duties to the wounded.

15. The native levies proved their usefulness by the rapidity with which they followed up the flying enemy, causing them fearful loss. They were commanded by Veldtman, a Fingoe Chief, whose services have continually proved valuable in the war.

16. I conclude by calling your special attention to the services of Colonel Glyn, commanding in the Transkei.

17. To Captain Upcher my best thanks are due for the excellent way in which he handled his force, and the perfect success he obtained. He has been commanding a column for some time in the Transkei, both in the operations towards the Bashee River, and the subsequent action of Newmaka, and also near the Kei River; and I have received most favourable reports of his intelligence, zeal, and ability. Captain Upcher deserves your best consideration.

Captain Grenfell is mentioned as having "behaved with great gallantry" in command of the force placed under him. This is the second occasion on which he has distinguished himself by good service in this war.

Lieutenant Carrington has shown great zeal and energy, not only by his distinguished example to his men on this occasion, but by the good service he has rendered on three former occasions in raising forces for service at the Diamond Fields, in the Transvaal, and in the Cape Colony.

18. It is satisfactory to me to have to report upon the distinguished conduct of the troops generally, both Her Majesty's Troops and Naval Brigade, and the Colonial forces, under my command. Their readiness in action, willingness to accept privation, and the rapidity with which they took up the positions entrusted to their care, have called for my constant approbation.

I have, &c.,

A. T. CUNYNGHAME, General.

From Colonel Glyn, Commanding Forces, Transkei, to Deputy Adjutant General, King Williamstown.

SIR, Ibeka, February 12, 1878.

1. I HAVE much pleasure in reporting for His Excellency the General's information that another success has been gained by the troops under my command.

2. Having received information that a large force of the enemy, about 4,000 or 5,000 men, were advancing from the Quora River towards the Kobinaba River and Kei River, I reinforced the column at Quintana under Captain Upcher, with Carrington's Frontier Light Horse, and the Capetown Volunteer Artillery with 7-pounder gun.

3. These Corps had only joined me a few days previously, and I am glad to report that their services during the engagement were invaluable.

4. I also heard that another force was to attack the Ibeka for the purpose of obtaining ammunition and stores.

5. Thinking that this might be an invention to prevent further reinforcements being sent down,

6. I arranged a column, strength as per margin,* commanded by Captain Robinson, R.A., and moved them to Tutura, a Mission Station half-way between this and the Quintana, to be in readiness to reinforce either post in case of an attack.

7. By this arrangement Captain Robinson was enabled to come up with Captain Upcher's column in time to be of some use.*

8. The column at Quintana was attacked on the morning of the 7th by the combined forces of Kreli and Sandilli, the Gcaleka and Gaika chiefs, numbering from 4,000 to 5,000 men.

9. From the Despatches herewith enclosed, marked A and B,† it appears to have been a very sharp engagement, in which every one behaved admirably.

10. Captain Upcher's disposal of his force was excellent, and the smartness with which he conducted the pursuit of the retreating enemy caused them great loss.

11. I attach the Medical Report of killed and wounded, and considering the number of the enemy engaged, the casualties on our side are very few.‡

12. The wounded are all doing well.

13. Xoxo, with some of Mapassa's tribe, endeavoured to show his loyalty by joining in the action and doing good service.

14. The result of my operations on the Kei has been effectually to prevent the enemy from crossing in any force into the Colony, and to force them into Gcalekaland, where, provided they meet with no success, they must shortly be subdued by starvation.

I have, &c.,

R. T. GLYN, Colonel, Commanding Transkei.

B.

From Captain Upcher, 1-24th Regiment, Commanding Column* near Quintana, to Colonel Glyn, Commanding Transkei Field Force.

SIR, Quintana, February 8, 1878.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that yesterday it was reported to me by Captain Veldtman, at about 5.30 A.M., that the Kaffirs were advancing on the camp.

2. We were aware that a very large force of the enemy was concentrating in our front, and had made every preparation to meet them.

3. I immediately struck tents. The men (who had been previously told off to their places) manned the shelter trenches, which I had constructed on the lines laid down for the proposed fort. Captain Rainforth's company were sent out in skirmishing order, and lined a small hill on our right front. Carrington's Light Horse patrolled to the north to observe the enemy ; both these officers had orders to fire and retire, to bring the enemy within range of the camp ; these orders were carried out most satisfactorily.

* FORCE:—Naval Brigade, 1 officer, 25 men ;—Royal Engineers, 5 men ;—24th Regiment, 4 officers, 215 men ; —F.A.M. Police Artillery, 1 officer, 14 men ;—F.A. Mounted Police, 3 officers, 77 men ;—Frontier Light Horse, 3 officers, 72 men ;—Capetown Volunteer Artillery, 14 men ;—Total, 12 officers, 422 men.—Fingoe levies, 560 men.

4. The Kaffirs advanced at first in two divisions from south and west. The number that appeared in these directions was, in my opinion, fully 1,500 (one thousand five hundred) men.

5. At 1,200 yards, I directed Lieutenant Cochrane, Frontier Armed and Mounted Police Artillery, to fire with the 9-pounder gun, and soon afterwards the 7-pounder gun, well worked by the Cape Town Artillery Volunteers, and the Naval Brigade Rocket tube, under Lieutenant Hamilton, R.N., were brought into action.

6. In spite of the heavy fire from these guns the Kaffirs continued their advance with great determination on our front and left flank. When they arrived within about 900 yards of us they came under the fire of our rifles ; on the left flank they came within about 400 yards, being constantly reinforced by Kaffirs coming over the hill in rear.

7. The Fingoes were placed under cover on our right and left flank. Veldtman on our left, Smith Poswa on our right flank, both having orders to pursue directly the enemy was broken.

8. After about twenty minutes' heavy firing, the enemy gave way on both sides. Captain Veltman chased the Kaffirs on our left, following them up to the Kolora, not getting back here till after mid-day, having killed 54.

9. The Frontier Light Horse, under Commandant Carrington, dashed out, and, charging the enemy in front, broke them up and drove them into the Nyameni. This charge was most brilliantly executed.

10. Several of the enemy, still hovering about our left rear, were driven off by Sub-Inspectors Holden and Springer, and Frontier Armed Mounted Police, mounted and dismounted.

11. The Frontier Light Horse having returned to camp the men were about to commence breakfast, when a strong division of Kaffirs approached on our right flank.

12. Some Frontier Armed and Mounted Police, under Sub-Inspector Hatton, the Frontier Light Horse, and about 50 men of 1–24th Regiment, under Lieutenant Atkinson, were sent to intercept this party, under Captain Grenfell, whose report I attach.

13. A large body of Kaffirs was coming up a small wooded kloof on our right front. I left the camp under Sub-Inspector Holden and a sufficient force, and took out the Naval Brigade, and one Company of the 1–24th Regiment under Lieutenant Anstey, and Smith Poswa's Fingoes, and drove back the enemy with heavy loss, clearing the kloof in about one hour.

14. By 10.30 A.M. the enemy had retreated out of range, and were assembling in hundreds on the conical hill, on our right front. I ordered the pursuit to cease, and returned to camp.

15. I then sent out the 9-pounder gun, under Sub-Inspector Cochrane, Frontier Armed and Mounted Police Artillery, with the men previously left in camp, as escort. He took up a good position, and worked his gun well, shelling the hill occupied by the enemy, who fled in the direction of the Tala Bush.

16. I have much pleasure in testifying to the admirable conduct of all branches of the service under my command.

17. The 24th skirmished with great steadiness and rapidity, making the best use of cover while advancing under fire, to which fact I attribute the small loss on our side.

18. The Naval Brigade, under Lieutenant Hamilton, Royal Navy, both in working the rockets and driving the enemy out of the kloof, did great service.

19. The Frontier Armed and Mounted Police, commanded by Sub-Inspector Holden, and the Frontier Armed and Mounted Police Artillery, under Sub-Inspector Cochrane, behaved admirably: the 9-pounder was excellently laid by Sergeant Baker, Frontier Armed and Mounted Police Artillery.

20. The Cape Town Artillery Volunteers, with 7-pounder gun, under Sergeant Breda, behaved with great steadiness in action; the gun was well laid and capitally served by the men.

21. The Frontier Light Horse, under Commandant Carrington, behaved most brilliantly, charging right into the enemy, engaging them at close quarters, and effectually preventing them from re-forming. They were grandly led by their commandant.

22. My special thanks are due to Captain Grenfell, A.D.C., who behaved with great gallantry, and commanded the party sent against the right attacking force of the enemy.

23. I enclose a report from Captain Robinson, Royal Artillery, who made every effort to reach the scene of action, and dispersed a body of men on our right.

24. Surgeon Hall was most attentive, and rendered every assistance to the wounded.

25. Captain Veldtman, in pursuit, rendered great service, and Smith Poswa's Fingoes fought well.

26. The loss of the enemy has been severe, 185 bodies reported counted; but many having fallen in the long grass and kloofs, I consider over 200 must have fallen.

Casualties as per return appended:—2 Fingoes killed; 1 European severely wounded (Carrington's Horse), 1 European slightly (Carrington's Horse); 7 Fingoes wounded.

I have, &c.,
RUSSEL UPCHER, Captain 1-24th Regiment, Commanding Column.

C.

Captain Upcher, 24th Regiment, Commanding Column.

Quintana,
SIR, February 7, 1878.

1. IN accordance with your request, I took command of the force sent to meet the Kaffirs, who attacked on the right of our position.

2. On arriving at the high ground above the kloof, I found Sub-Inspector Hatton and his men of F.A.M.P. hard pressed by a strong body of the enemy, but he and his men held their position with great determination, until reinforced by a troop of Frontier Light Horse under Captain Whalley; the enemy being at one time so close, that one man received an assegai through his clothes.

3. The Frontier Armed and Mounted Police and Frontier Light Horse then attacked the enemy and drove them back.

4. At this time Lieutenant Atkinson and his company was engaged with some Kaffirs, who were retreating along the ridge. I requested him to face his company about and support the police, which he did, charging past under a smart fire.

5. When the attack on the right was made, Commandant Carrington and his Light Horse were engaged with a large body of Kaffirs, who came out of the kloof on the left and tried to outflank them. He charged with great gallantry close up to the Kaffirs and drove them back again, doing great execution. Here, I regret to say, he had two men wounded, one horse killed, and three wounded—one since shot—his own horse being wounded in the jaw.

6. Captain Rainforth now joined me with his Company, and we pursued the enemy down the ridge the 24th skirmishing in centre, the cavalry on each flank, and Fingoes on the edge of the kloof; in this kloof 60 of the enemy lie dead.

7. I left some Police and Fingoes at the head of the kloof, and proceeded along the neck of the ridge until reaching the end, where we observed the natives swarming up the conical hill in front; but being now out of rifle range, I sounded the retire, and leaving a strong body of Fingoes to watch the enemy and report, I returned to camp.

Mr. Mulroy, Fingoe leader, behaved very well, and was most useful, charging the Kaffirs with his Fingoes, and heading them in the pursuit.

I have, &c.,

F. W. GRENFELL,
Captain, A.D.C.

To Captain Upcher, Commanding Camp, Quintana.

Camp on Tala Ridge, Quintana,
February 9, 1878.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report that, in accordance with Colonel Glyn's order, I marched a detachment as per margin,* to Tutura, on the evening of the 6th instant.

At 6.40 A.M., on the 7th, I received your message that your camp was attacked, and marched off without delay to reinforce, leaving 35 men with the wagons to follow up.

When we arrived within three miles of your camp it was evident that the attack had been beaten off, and that you were operating in the Nyamani Valley. I determined that assistance could be best rendered to you by taking the detachment down the Tala ridge. The advanced guard reporting that a body of the enemy were collecting behind a ridge, apparently with the intention of making an attack on your flank, I advanced Carrington's Horse and my two guns at a gallop to within range, and opened fire at 8.30 A.M. Two shells caused the enemy to retire, and two more sent them flying, leaving many blankets behind. The infantry then came up, and we followed for more than a mile, but with so small a force, I did not consider it prudent to proceed into the Tala bush.

The marching of the 24th Regiment and Pulleine's Rangers was excellent, 7 miles in an hour and a-half and not a straggler.

The Detachment of Carrington's Horse was always in the right place at the right time.

I am much indebted to Lieutenant Morshead, 24th Regiment, of Colonel Glyn's Staff, who rendered me great assistance.

I have, &c.,

J. C. ROBINSON,

Captain R.A., Commanding Artillery.

A PROCLAMATION.

VICTORIA, R.

WHEREAS, by the Reserve Force Act, 1867, as amended by the Army Enlistment Act, 1870, it is amongst other things enacted that, in case of imminent national danger, or of great emergency, the occasion being first communicated to Parliament, if Parliament be then sitting, or declared by Proclamation, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty by Proclamation to direct that the Reserve Force or such part thereof as Her Majesty may think fit may be called out on permanent service, and that upon the issuing of any such Proclamation the men in Class I of the Reserve Force or those of them to whom such Proclamation applies shall become subject to general service with Her Majesty's Army. And the said force, or such part thereof as may be so called out shall serve in pursuance of such Proclamation until it be signified to them by Her Majesty's command that their services are no longer required ; but so, nevertheless, that the services of men so called out shall not be required under such Proclamation beyond six months after peace has been next proclaimed :

And whereas the present state of public affairs in the East, and the necessity in connection therewith of taking steps for the maintenance of Peace and for the protection of the interests of the Empire, have, in Our opinion, constituted a case of great emergency within the meaning of the said Acts, and We have communicated the same to Parliament :

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of MAY 17, 1878.

War Office, May 16, 1878.

A DESPATCH, of which the following is a copy, has been received by the Secretary of State for War from Lieutenant-General the Honourable F. A. Thesiger, C.B., Commanding the Troops in South Africa:—

King William's Town,
Cape of Good Hope,
April 10, 1878.

SIR,

1. Having been in the field during the last 13 days, and constantly in the saddle, I regret I was unable to furnish you with a report last mail.

2. By my despatch, dated 25th March, I mentioned I had returned to King William's Town, and was making fresh arrangements for the clearing of the Buffalo Poort and Perie Bush. The preliminary arrangements were completed by the 26th March, and on the following day I myself fixed my head-quarters at Mount Kempt.

3. On the 28th, the forces* under Colonel Wood, V.C., C.B., Lieutenant-Colonel Degacher, Lieutenant-Colonel Law, Commandants Frost, Schermbrucker, Lieutenant-Colonel Warren, R.E., and Captain Sansom were in position occupying posts surrounding the Kafirs under Sandilli.

4. On the 21st March, the Colonial Secretary telegraphed orders to the Transkei for the immediate despatch of 1,000 Fingoes from that part of the country, and I was led to believe that they would arrive about the 28th, on which date I had arranged to attack Sandilli. They did not arrive, however, until the 3rd April, and my plan of operations was consequently very seriously disturbed.

5. On the 28th March, the enemy showed themselves in considerable numbers on the open ground between the Gozo Heights and the precipice west of Hayne's Mill, and I ordered an attack for the following morning. The combined movements of Colonel Wood and Commandant Frost, in executing this order, were well carried out. The Kafirs, however, made no stand, and almost without resistance deserted a position which, if properly defended, must have entailed considerable loss on our side. The troops encamped on the positions taken.

6. The Kafirs were thus confined to the Bush of the Buffalo Poort Valley: this bush was of such extent that it was useless to attempt to beat it until the arrival of the 1,000 Fingoes from the Transkei. All that could be done in the meantime was to keep the Kafirs in, and prevent their obtaining cattle and other supplies from the outside. To assist this the Indian corn gardens in the vicinity of the forest were, with the concurrence of the civil authorities, destroyed. Constant raids into the bush, and on parties endeavouring to escape, or drive in cattle, were made; roads were cut through the forest where only tracks before existed; and new paths opened out through those parts where communication between our posts was most difficult or necessary. The effect of these last-named works must, I consider, be looked upon as most important, as now for many years, should the rebels again take refuge in this bush, there will be no difficulty in dealing with them as has already been done.

7. Although owing to the delay in the arrival of the 1,000 Fingoes, it was evident that a large proportion of the rebels had slipped away in small parties from the bush I was surrounding, still it appeared to me desirable to show the rebels that it was possible for our forces to penetrate into, and thoroughly search, what has long been believed by them to be an impenetrable fastness.

8. On the 3rd April the Transkei Fingoes arrived, Mr. Ayliff, the Chief Magistrate in Fingoeland, having been forced to accompany them himself owing to their unwillingness to leave their homes—the reason given being that they had become rich and independent from the spoils of the Gcaleka war. I was surprised to find, moreover, how few were in possession of Government arms, considering the large numbers that were known to be in Fingoeland.

9. A day's rest for these men was necessary, as I found that they had been pushed on by forced marches, one day's march having been 53 miles. I, therefore, made arrangements for driving the Buffalo Poort Bush on 5th April. The various paths cut through the forest and all points of egress were lined and held by the European portion of the force, while the whole of the Fingoes, to the number of 1,777, led by European Officers, drove the bush in a southerly direction. As an evidence of the difficult nature and extent of the ground to be traversed, I would mention that although these men entered the higher part of the valley at 6 A.M. they only emerged at the end at 5 P.M.

10. A few Kafirs were seen, and almost all of them were killed. The delay in driving the bush had no doubt enabled the rebels to escape in small parties, and in different directions.

11. I had issued instructions for the breaking up of the force around the Buffalo range after this operation ; but before it was completed, I received intelligence of the presence of large bodies of Kafirs belonging to Jali's, Swani's, Rama's, and Seyolo's Tribes (who had just broken out in rebellion) in the neighbourhood of Taba Indoda. A portion of these rebels had been gallantly attacked by a force consisting of 75 Diamond Field Horse, under Lieutenant-Colonel Warren, R.E., who had routed them with considerable loss, 58 bodies of the enemy being counted in one spot outside the bush, and 300 cattle being taken. The movements I was now called upon to make with the view of preventing these fresh bands from penetrating north into the Amatolas, entailed very considerable fatigue on the troops (more especially on the European Officers belonging to the Fingoe Levies) who had already gone through a hard day's work in the bush.

12. A small force under Lieutenant-Colonel Law, consisting of two guns N Brigade R.A., and one company 2nd Battalion 24th Foot were at once dispatched to Perie, with orders to leave that station at daybreak the following morning for Bailie's Post. The 1,000 Transkei Fingoes marched at 1 A.M. the following morning towards the same post, whilst instructions were sent to Colonel Wood, V.C., C.B., to move the whole of his force from the heights on the following morning, and to march with his mounted men and Fingoe Levies by the valley of the Rebula to the neighbourhood of Burns Hill, where he would be in a position to stop any attempt on the part of the rebels to force their way into the Amatolas. I myself met Colonel Wood at Bailie's Post the following morning at 8 A.M., and arranged that I should advance to the attack of the rebels from Bailies Post at 12 noon, by which time I reckoned that his force would be in position.

13. Two guns and a company of the 2nd Battalion of the 24th Foot, under Captain Tongue, were moved by Colonel Law to the south of the Taba Indoda Hill. This bush was shelled at noon, and cleared without difficulty by 1.30 P.M. At 2.30 it was discovered that some rebels were occupying the Tutu Bush, which lies on the north side of Taba Indoda. This was attacked by the 1st Division of Transkei Fingoes (500 strong), under Captain Wynn, who entered the bush from the south and west. The Kafirs made an obstinate stand, and drove them out of the bush, killing Captain Webster, of this division, whilst gallantly leading on his men. At this moment, Colonel Wood's force, reinforced by two companies of the 90th Regiment and Captain Emmett's company of Hottentots, opportunely appeared on the high ground above the bush and effectually carried out its instructions.

14. After the repulse of the 1st division, the 2nd division Transkei Fingoes, who had descended into the valley, were ordered to drive the bush from west to east. They were wanting in enterprise, however, and valuable hours of daylight were lost. Commandant Rorke (commanding this division), however, collected two or three companies, and by his personal example and courage succeeded in clearing that part of the bush which had been previously attacked without success by the 1st division. He only retired when ordered to do so in eonsequence of failing light, and want of ammunition. So far as can be aseertained the enemy's loss in actual killed on that day by the Transkei Fingoes, and by the force on the southern side, was 41 men, among whom were two sons of Seyolo. As the bush is very dense, and the Artillery and Martini Henry Rifles penetrated further than the Fingoes searehed, it is probable a larger number was killed. Our loss was 1 officer and 2 Fingoes killed, and 20 wounded severely: the loss inflicted by Colonel Wood's foree was 28, having 1 killed and 10 wounded on his side.

15. During the night of the 6th, the rebels broke away in different directions. One body, stated to be 150 or 200, passed near Bailie's Grave about 7 A.M., on the 7th, into the Perie Bush; the two guns Royal Artillery and two companies of the 2nd Battalion of the 24th moved out to intereept them, the Transkei Fingoes at the same time beating the bush from the Taba Indoda to the same point, killing 8 Kafirs, and eapturing some cattle and horses. One man of the 2nd Battalion of the 24th was killed. Colonel Wood's foree, resuming the position he had oceupied on the 6th, drove the Tutu Bush, killing 44 Kafirs, among whom were two Chiefs (Jali is stated to be one of them).

16. As the bands of rebels appeared now to be for the time demoralized and dispersed, I returned to King William's Town, as it was absolutely necessary to make arrangements for replacing by new levies the volunteers who were daily leaving me, in consequenee of their three months' engagements having expired.

17. Beaufort District.—The Waterkloof part of the eountry is reported to be quiet; and I am leaving that district to the care of the Colonial forces. The chief Oba has up to the present time remained loyal, but his tribe is not to be depended upon.

18. District between Buffalo and Keis Kama Rivers.—The Kafirs belonging to the tribes of Seyolo, Kama, and Jali, have generally taken the field against us. Swani, up to the present time, has proved faithful; but a large proportion of his tribe have joined Seyolo. Commandant Von Linsingen, who was placed in military charge of this district, lost no time in attacking them; and by his energetic action has succeeded in driving the rebels completely out of that district; their subsequent dispersion having been already narrated.

19. Thomas' River District.—Commandants Frost and Schermbrucker have now returned to this district; rebels are constantly passing through it, but have been already attacked by those officers at Xaxazeli and Dolme Bush, 26 of the enemy were killed, and 19 horses taken; Lieutenant Belling, of the Stutterheim Volunteers, was severely wounded, and one Fingoe wounded. Commandant Frost further searched the bush on the 9th April, killing 4 Kafirs and capturing 4 horses. It will be seen, therefore, that over a large area within the confines of the Colony, armed rebellion exists. It will require constant watchfulness and sustained energy on the part of the Magistrates and Commandants, aided by efficient bodies of volunteers and native levies, to meet this danger. I have pointed this out to the Government, who are doing all they can to carry out my views.

20. Transkei.—Beyond the Kei all is reported quiet: Kreli is still at large, but his whereabouts is not known.

21. Tamboo Kieland.—I have received no detailed reports from Major Elliott's expedition, which, however, I believe is progressing favourably.

* * * * *

23. I append a return of the losses inflicted on the enemy during the last fourteen days, based upon the actual number of men found killed or wounded, it of course does not represent the actual number of either. A large number of women and children have been either captured or come in voluntarily, and are being sent to the Western provinces until the troubles are over. This course, I am convinced, will have most salutary results, and must undoubtedly save many lives, as their state was most pitiable, from exposure and want.

24. The troops have been healthy, although they have had considerable exposure and fatigue; and an excellent spirit prevails in all ranks of Her Majesty's troops. Although the number of Colonial troops is now very much reduced, yet I do not anticipate any difficulty in replacing those men whose term of engagement has expired.

Information has just been received from Queenstown that the Chief Gongubela has surrendered with thirteen of his immediate followers.

Taking a review of the events of the past month, which have resulted in considerable losses in men and property to the rebels, the death of men of note, and the dispersion of themselves and families from their own country, I am inclined to take a favourable view of the situation. In this opinion I am strengthened, moreover, by the fact that, at the present moment, the Civil authorities are unable to tell where any body of the rebels are collecting.

I have, &c.,

FRED. THESIGER,
Lieutenant-General Commanding.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the Session of Parliament holden in the thirty-third and thirty-fourth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An "Act for amending the Law relating to the "Extradition of Criminals," and also by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the Session of Parliament holden in the thirty-sixth and thirty-seventh years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the Extradition "Act, 1870," it was amongst other things enacted, that where an arrangement has been made with any foreign State with respect to the surrender to such State of any fugitive criminals, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, direct that the said Acts shall apply in the case of such foreign State; and that Her Majesty may, by the same or any subsequent Order, limit the operation of the Order, and restrict the same to fugitive criminals who are in or suspected of being in the part of Her Majesty's dominions specified in the Order, and render the operation thereof subject to such conditions, exceptions, and qualifications as may be deemed expedient:

24. Crimes committed at sea :—

(a) Any act of depredation or violence by the crew of a British or French vessel, against another British or French vessel, or by the crew of a foreign vessel not provided with a regular commission, against British or French vessels, their crews or their cargoes.

(b) The fact by any person being or not one of the crew of a vessel of giving her over to pirates.

(c) The fact by any person being or not one of the crew of a vessel of taking possession of such vessel by fraud or violence.

(d) Sinking or destroying a vessel at sea, or attempting or conspiring to do so.

(e) Revolt or conspiracy to revolt by two or more persons on board a ship on the high seas, against the authority of the master.

25. Dealing in slaves in such manner as to constitute an offence against the laws of both countries.

The extradition is also to take place for participation, either as principals or accessories, in any of the aforesaid crimes, provided such participation be punishable by the laws of both the Contracting Parties.

ARTICLE IV.

The present Treaty shall apply to crimes and offences committed prior to the signature of the Treaty; but a person surrendered shall not be tried for any crime or offence committed in the other country before the extradition, other than the crime for which his surrender has been granted.

ARTICLE V.

No accused or convicted person shall be surrendered, if the offence in respect of which his surrender is demanded shall be deemed by the Party upon which it is made to be a political offence, or to be an act connected with (connexe à) such an offence, or if he prove to the satisfaction of the police magistrate or of the Court before which he is brought on habeas corpus, or of the Secretary of State, that the requisition for his surrender has, in fact, been made with a view to try or to punish him for an offence of a political character.

ARTICLE VI.

On the part of the French Government, the extradition shall take place in the following manner in France :—

The Ambassador or other Diplomatic Agent of Her Britannic Majesty in France shall send to the Minister for Foreign Affairs, in support of each demand for extradition, an authenticated and duly legalized copy either of a certificate of conviction, or of a warrant of arrest against a person accused, clearly setting forth the nature of the crime or offence on account of which the fugitive is being proceeded against. The judicial document thus produced shall be accompanied by a description of the person claimed, and by any other information which may serve to identify him.

These documents shall be communicated by the Minister for Foreign Affairs to the Keeper of the Seals, Minister of Justice, who, after examining the claim for surrender, and the documents in support thereof, shall report thereon immediately to the President of the Republic; and, if there is reason for it, a Decree of the President will grant the extradition of the person claimed, and will order him to be arrested and delivered to the British authorities.

In consequence of this Decree, the Minister of the Interior shall give orders that search be made for the fugitive criminal, and in case of his arrest, that he be conducted to the French frontier, to be delivered to the person authorized by Her Britannic Majesty's Government to receive him.

Should it so happen that the documents furnished by the British Government, with the view of establishing the identity of the fugitive criminal, and that the particulars collected by the agents of the French Police with the same view, be considered insufficient, notice shall be immediately given to the Ambassador or other Diplomatic Agent of Her Britannic Majesty in France, and the fugitive person, if he has been arrested, shall remain in custody until the British Government has been able to furnish further evidence in order to establish his identity or to throw light on other difficulties in the examination.

ARTICLE VII.

In the dominions of Her Britannic Majesty, other than the Colonies or Foreign Possessions of Her Majesty, the manner of proceeding shall be as follows :—

(A) In the case of a person accused—The requisition for the surrender shall be made to Her Britannic Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs by the Ambassador or other Diplomatic Agent of the President of the French Republic, accomp anied by a warrant of arrest or other equivalent judicial document, issued by a Judge or Magistratc duly authorized to take cognizancc of the acts charged against the accused in France, together with duly authenticated depositions or statements taken on oath before such Judge or Magistrate, clearly setting forth the said acts, and containing a description of the person claimed, and any particulars which may serve to identify him. The said Secretary of State shall transmit such documents to Her Britannic Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, who shall then, by order under his hand and seal, signify to some Police Magistrate in London that such requisition has been made, and require him, if there be due cause, to issue his warrant for the apprehension of the fugitive.

On the receipt of such order from the Secretary of State, and on the production of such evidence as would, in the opinion of the Magistrate, justify the issue of the warrant if the crime had been committed in the United Kingdom, he shall issue his warrant accordingly.

When the fugitive shall have been apprehended, he shall be brought before the Police Magistrate who issued the warrant, or some other Police Magistrate in London. If the evidence to be then produced shall be such as to justify, according to the law of England, the committal for trial of the prisoner, if the crime of which he is accused had been committed in England, the Police Magistrate shall commit him to prison to await the warrant of the Secretary of State for his surrender; sending immediately to the Secretary of State a certificate of the committal and a report upon the case.

After the expiration of a period from the committal of the prisoner which shall never be less than fifteen days, the Secretary of State shall, by order under his hand and seal, order the fugitive criminal to be surrendered to such person as may be duly authorized to receive him on the part of President of the French Republic.

(B) In the case of a person convicted—The course of proceeding shall be the same as in the case of a person accused, except that the warrant to be transmitted by the Ambassador or other Diplomatic Agent in support of his requisition shall clearly set forth the crime of which the person claimed has been convicted, and state the fact, place, and date of his conviction. The evidence to be produced before the Police Magistrate shall be such as would, according to the law of England, prove that the prisoner was convicted of the crime charged.

(C) Persons convicted by judgment in default or arrêt de contumace, shall be in the matter of extradition considered as persons accused, and, as such, be surrendered.

(D) After the Police Magistrate shall have committed the accused or convicted person to prison to await the order of a Secretary of State for his surrender, such person shall have the right to apply for a writ of habeas corpus; if he should so apply, his surrender must be deferred until after the decision of the Court upon the return to the writ, and even then can only take place if the decision is adverse to the applicant. In the latter case the Court may at once order his delivery to the person authorized to receive him, without the order of a Secretary of State for his surrender, or commit him to prison to await such order.

ARTICLE VIII.

Warrants, depositions, or statements on oath, issued or taken in the dominions of either of the two High Contracting Parties, and copies thereof, and certificates of or judicial documents stating the facts of conviction, shall be received in evidence in proceedings in the dominions of the other if purporting to be signed or certified by a Judge, Magistrate, or officer of the country where they were issued or taken provided such warrants, depositions, statements, copies, certificates, and judicial documents are authenticated by the oath of some witness, or by being sealed with the official seal of the Minister of Justice or some other Minister of State.

ARTICLE IX.

A fugitive criminal may be apprehended under a warrant issued by any Police Magistrate, Justice of the Peace, or other competent authority in either country, on such information or complaint, and such evidence, or after such proceedings as would, in the opinion of the person issuing the warrant justify the issue of a warrant, if the crime had been committed or the prisoner convicted in that part of the dominions of the two Contracting Parties in which the Magistrate exercises jurisdiction: provided, however, that, in the United Kingdom, the accused shall, in such case, be sent as speedily as possible before a Police Magistrate in London. He shall be discharged, as well in the United Kingdom as in France, if within fourteen days a requisition shall not have been made for his surrender by the Diplomatic Agent of his country in the manner directed by Articles II and IV of this Treaty.

The same rule shall apply to the cases of persons accused or convicted of any of the crimes specified in this Treaty committed on the high seas on board any vessel of either country which may come into a port of the other.

ARTICLE X.

If the fugitive criminal who has been committed to prison, be not surrendered and conveyed away within two months after such committal, or within two months after the decision of the Court upon the return to a writ of habeas corpus in the United Kingdom, he shall be discharged from custody, unless sufficient cause be shown to the contrary.

ARTICLE XI.

The claim for extradition shall not be complied with if the individual claimed has been already tried for the same offence in the country whence the extradition is demanded, or if, since the commission of the acts charged, the accusation or the conviction, exemption from prosecution, or punishment has been acquired by lapse of time, according to the laws of that country.

ARTICLE XII.

If the individual claimed by one of the two High

Contracting Parties in pursuance of the present Treaty should be also claimed by one or several other Powers, on account of other crimes committed upon their respective territories, his surrender shall be granted to that State whose demand is earliest in date ; unless any other arrangement should be made between the Governments which have claimed him, either on account of the gravity of the crimes committed, or for any other reasons.

ARTICLE XIII.

If the individual claimed should be under prosecution, or condemned for a crime or offence committed in the country where he may have taken refuge, his surrender may be deferred until he shall have been set at liberty in due course of law.

In case he should be proceeded against or detained in such country on account of obligations contracted towards private individuals, his surrender shall nevertheless take place.

ARTICLE XIV.

Every article found in the possession of the individual claimed at the time of his arrest, shall, if the competent authority so decide, be seized, in order to be delivered up with his person at the time when the surrender shall be made. Such delivery shall not be limited to the property or articles obtained by stealing or by fraudulent bankruptcy, but shall extend to every thing that may serve as proof of the crime, and shall take place even when the surrender, after having been ordered, shall be prevented from taking place by reason of the escape or death of the individual claimed.

The rights of third parties with regard to the said property or articles are nevertheless reserved.

ARTICLE XV.

Each of the High Contracting Parties shall defray the expenses occasioned by the arrest within its territories, the detention, and the conveyance to its frontier, of the persons whom it may have consented to surrender in pursuance of the present Treaty.

ARTICLE XVI.

In the Colonies and foreign Possessions of the two High Contracting Parties the manner of proceeding shall be as follows :—

The requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal who has taken refuge in a Colony or foreign Possession of either Party, shall be made to the Governor or chief authority of such Colony or Possession by the chief Consular Officer of the other in such Colony or Possession ; or, if the fugitive has escaped from a Colony or foreign Possession of the Party on whose behalf the requisition is made, by the Governor or chief authority of such colony or Possession.

Such requisitions may be disposed of, subject always, as nearly as may be, to the provisions of this Treaty, by the respective Governors or chief authorities, who, however, shall be at liberty either to grant the surrender or to refer the matter to their Government.

The foregoing stipulations shall not in any way affect the arrangements established in the East Indian Possessions of the two countries by the IXth Article of the Treaty of the 7th March, 1815.

ARTICLE XVII.

The present Treaty shall be ratified and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Paris as soon as possible.

It shall come into operation ten days after its publication, in conformity with the laws of the respective countries.

Either Party may at any time terminate the Treaty on giving to the other six months' notice of its intention.

In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seals of their arms.

Done at Paris, this fourteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

(L.S.) DECAZES.

And whereas the ratifications of the said Treaty were exchanged at Paris on the eighth day of April last:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, and in virtue of the authority committed to Her by the said recited Acts, doth order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the thirty-first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, the said Acts shall apply in the case of the said Treaty with the President of the French Republic.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 11, 1878.

War Office, June 7, 1878.

A DESPATCH, of which the following is a copy, has been received by the Secretary of State for War from the Lieutenant-General Commanding the Troops in South Africa :—

King William's Town,
Cape of Good Hope,
5th May, 1878.

SIR,

HAVING returned to King William's Town, I take the opportunity of sending you a report up to date, of the operations now in progress. As the mail does not leave for a few days, I trust I may be able to add a further report to the one I have now the honour to make.

1. You will have heard by my last despatch, dated 24th April, that the rebels had, during the enforced lull in active operations, collected in the Buffalo Range, and in the bush lying around the Intala Ka' Udoda, and that I had determined to operate in the latter district first. I hardly hoped to conceal this intention from the Kafirs, whose spies are everywhere, even in King William's Town, but it is nevertheless reported from various sources that they believed the Perie Bush (Buffalo Range) was the first point to be attacked.

2. On Monday the 29th April (on which day I took the field myself) the forces detailed for the attack moved, as follows, to posts already occupied :—

From King William's Town to Bailie's Post.

Four companies 2nd Battalion 24th Foot under Colonel Degacher; 2 7-pr. guns under Major Harness, R.A.; 2 7-pr guns under Lieutenant Giles, R.A., worked by bandsmen, of 1st Batallion 24th Foot, assisted by a few artillerymen.

Garrison already at this post—Frontier Light Horse under Major Buller, C.B., 60 rifles; 1 company 2nd Battalion 24th Foot; Maclean's Fingoes under Commandant Allan Maclean, 60 Hottentots.

From Middle Drift to Burn's Hill.

Two 7-pr. guns under Captain Smith, R.A.; 2 7-pr. guns under Lieutenant Curling, R.A.; 1 company 90th Light Infantry.

Garrison already at this post—2 companies 90th Light Infantry.

From Keiskama Hock to Yellow Wood Drift.

Lonsdale's Fingoes.

Garrison already there—Streatfield's Fingoes; 1 company 90th Light Infantry.

From Tamacha Post to Dele Neck.

Von Linsingen's Fingoes under Captain Ronald Maclean.

Garrison already there—Siwani's Kafirs under Captain Clarke; Graham's Town Volunteers under Captain Sampson; Von Linsingen's Mounted and Dismounted Volunteers.

Fort White and Makalalekile Neck.

Occupied by Diamond Field Horse under Captain Warren, R.E.

Post near Figland's Farm.

Held by 1 company 90th Light Infantry and Hottentots under Lieutenant White.

Green River (Hall's Hotel).

Somerset Volunteers under Captain Comeley.

3. My instructions for the attack on Tuesday, the 30th April, were as follows:—

"On Tuesday, the 30th April the forces will advance from their respective camps, so as to be ready to attack at daybreak.

"Colonel Wood's force, as per margin*, will advance in two columns; Streatfield's and Lonsdale's Fingoes, supported by 2 companies 90th Light Infantry, will beat the bush towards the Taba Ka' Udoda on the right side of the Zanyorkive Valley. Bowker's Rovers will watch this valley.

"Three companies 90th Light Infantry, with 4 guns and Diamond Field Horse will advance from Burn's Hill and Makalalekite Ridge on to the open ground west of the Taba Ka' Udoda.

"Commandant Von Linsingen's force will move up the Burnside, Bailie's Post-road, and will beat the southern slopes of the Taba Ka' Udoda, in a westerly direction, and work its way eventually on to the open ground on which Colonel Wood's European column will debouch.

"Lieutenant-Colonel Degacher's force, consisting of 5 companies 2nd Battalion 24th, and

* Vide return annexed, marked D.

4 guns, will move from Bailie's Post to the ground near the Intala Ka' Udoda, where the guns will be placed in position to shell the bush.

"Maclean's Fingoes will move at 2 A.M., from Bailie's Post to the mouth of the Zanyorkive Valley, and will beat the eastern side of the valley bush towards the Intala Ka' Udoda.

"Frontier Light Horse and 1 company 2nd Battalion 24th, under Major Buller, C.B., 60th Rifles, will move one hour before daylight to ridge between Zanyorkive and Congo Valley.

"Captain Sampson's Volunteers will watch the bush on the south side of the Intala Ka' Udoda, and prevent the rebels breaking out in a south-westerly direction.

"Captain Comeley will watch the bush leading from the Intala Ka' Udoda to the Perie Bush, and endeavour to prevent the rebels crossing from one to the other.

"The Hottentots now at the drift near Bailie's Post will guard the last named post during the absence of the company 2nd Battalion 24th Foot.

4. By 5 A.M. the forces were in motion, and by 6.15 A.M., as it was getting light, Colonel Degacher's force* occupied the heights round the Intala Ka' Udoda. I accompanied this force. None of the enemy were met in this direction.

5. As the mounted scouts of the 88th Regiment (these 12 men formed my personal escort) reported that the enemy were to be seen below in the Zanyorkive Valley, and on the outskirts of the bush above, I ordered 2 guns and 2 companies to a position commanding this ground.

The rebels were already on the move, and it is difficult to account for their subsequent behaviour, unless they were completely surprised. When the artillery opened a well-directed fire, a large number of the enemy moved rapidly in a south-westerly direction towards the point where Colonel Wood's right column was advancing, and another portion descended to the valley towards the position occupied by Lieutenant-Colonel Degacher's force.

It has been stated that they intended to attack us, but that the heavy fire under which the rebels came crossing the valley, changed their determination. This party took the bush below, and dispersing in small parties, were met during the day as our lines closed in upon them, and lost severely.

About 6.45 A.M., heavy firing was heard from Colonel Wood's direction, and from the hurried movements of the Kafirs who had taken that direction, it was evident an engagement was taking place, and one that gave them encouragement, for they advanced and retired more than once towards and into the bush which concealed Colonel Wood's advance from us.

6. Colonel Wood's despatch enclosed (marked A) explains in detail what occurred there. I regret to state that Captain Stevens, 90th Light Infantry, was very severely wounded at the time when commanding and leading the company that formed part of the advanced guard. He was succeeded in the command by his subaltern Lieutenant Saltmarshe, who was shot five minutes afterwards in the act of encouraging his men. As Colonel Wood observes, "these officers acted in the most gallant manner, offering a fine example to all."

7. The path by which this column of Colonel Wood's force had to advance was surrounded by dense bush, which completely screened the Kafirs. It was a most difficult position for the Artillery, who were at first unable to use their guns, but the steadiness of the men under Captain Smith, R.A., has been reported to me to have been all that could be desired. Shortly afterwards they were enabled to unlimber and fire case into the bush at a distance of 30 yards.

8. Major Cherry, 90th Light Infantry, in the meantime took on the company of the 90th Light Infantry (left without officers), and, moving by short rushes, succeeded in gaining the open ground beyond the bush. This was at 7.50 A.M., and I saw them emerge, rapidly followed by the 2 guns, the whole firing into the bush which they had left, thus taking the enemy in flank.

9. Five minutes later Commandant Von Linsingen's force,* appeared on the sky line to the left of Lieutenant-Colonel Degacher's force, crowning the Intala Ka' Udoda and the neck connecting it with the heights occupied by Colonel Wood's force. The subsequent operations of this place are narrated in Commandant Von Linsingen's report attached (marked B).

10. At 8 A.M. Major Buller, C.B., who was posted to my right about 1,500 yards, overlooking the valley, asked permission (by flag signal) to descend with 50 dismounted men of the Frontier Light Horse (of which he is Acting Commandant) and one company 2nd Battalion 24th Foot. I re-inforced this party by Captain Austen's company of the 2nd Battalion 24th Regiment; Major Black of that regiment accompanied it. They descended to an enclosure at the bottom of the valley, where the rebels had left a large number of cattle, and then worked their way to the high ground on the opposite side, and eventually entered the bush with the other troops.

11. From this time until sunset the Zanyorkive Valley, with the kloofs running from it, were steadily worked through by the various forces. The Fingoes, under Allan Maclean, advancing from the north searched the eastern side, and were subsequently assisted by three and a half companies under Colonel Degacher, whilst the opposite side was taken by Commandant Von Linsingen. Colonel Wood, assisted by a portion of the latter force, and the two companies 2nd Battalion 24th Foot and Frontier Light Horse, with Majors Black and Buller, thoroughly searched the Tutu and other kloofs leading from this valley.

12. Very soon a large number of women (350 to 400) belonging to Seyolo's, Pato's and Edmund Sandilli's people, surrendered themselves. Fortunately the women and children generally leave the bush soon after the first shot is fired; their presence otherwise would be most embarrassing, as in the thick bush it is difficult to detect the fact of their being women. On one occasion, however, during this day they facilitated the escape of the men by forming up in front of them, and narrowly escaped being killed.

13. The women stated that Colonel Wood's force had been opposed by Seyolo and 400 men, and that Macaomo and Edmund Sandilli had been in the Tutu kloof.

14. The Kafirs fought with determination at certain points, but the ground they endeavoured to hold was far too extended for their force, and they were quite over-weighted by the presence of so many Europeans, as the ten companies present in the field worked through the bush in the most creditable manner.

15. The system of flag signalling was found most valuable; it enabled me to know what was happening over a large extent of broken country, and to transmit the necessary orders. Colonel

Wood was able to telegraph from the position he had gained with his advance-guard to the remainder of his force that had not entered the bush, "Advance with caution," when it would have been dangerous to have sent a messenger; and I myself was informed of what had happened, and of the names of the officers killed and wounded, &c., a very short time after the occurrence—information that could not have reached me by messenger sooner than in three hours, and not at all had the valley been still occupied by the enemy.

16. By sunset the day's work had been satisfactorily concluded, and the troops returned to their original posts.

17. The loss of the enemy on the 30th April, as found actually killed, was 141 killed. Our loss (excepting Colonel Wood's right column) was slight: it amounted to 1 officer 90th Light Infantry killed, 1 officer 90th Light Infantry wounded very severely, 2 privates 90th Light Infantry killed, 5 of the same corps wounded (two of whom have since died), 2 Fingoes killed, 5 wounded.

18. Early on the 1st of May parties of Kafirs endeavoured to pass across to the Buffalo Range, and no doubt some succeeded. At 4 A.M., heavy firing from the direction of Maclean's Fingoes, near Bailie's Post, being heard, I despatched a company of 2nd Battalion 24th Foot to their assistance, when it was found that one of these parties had actually stumbled upon this camp in the dark, and 1 Kafir had been shot. At daylight the bush between that spot and the Intala Ka' Udoda was searched by Maclean's Fingoes, assisted by the Frontier Light Horse, and the Somerset Volunteers, 2 guns and 2 companies 2nd Battalion 24th Foot. Later in the day, Von Linsingen's force from Dele Neck searched the bush which had not already been entered by the above mentioned troops: 11 Kafirs were killed, 2 prisoners taken, and 100 women and children surrendered.

19. On the 2nd May I myself visited all the posts round the Intala district. Colonel Degacher, with 2 companies 2nd Battalion 24th Foot and 2 guns, and Commandant Von Linsingen, with his force, proceeded to the Zanyorkive Valley, to make further search after rebels. In the afternoon, after the return of Colonel Degacher's force to camp, a party of rebels, supposed to number 50, amongst whom it is said were Seyolo and five other chiefs, were discovered in a strong position, under the precipice shown in map as "Seyolo's Krantz." The position was covered by dense bush, and by large detached boulders of rock, from behind which the enemy fired on any one approaching it; one of Siwani's Kafirs, belonging to Von Linsingen's force, was killed in endeavouring to do so. Colonel Degacher's force returned on receiving this intelligence, but it was found that the guns could not be used without withdrawing the cordon of men necessary to prevent the rebels' escape.

Commandant Von Linsingen passed the night in the valley with his men. I should add that every endeavour was made to induce this party of rebels to surrender, but without effect.

At 8 A.M. 3rd May, Commandant Von Linsingen commenced an attack; at noon he reported that he had taken the position: 21 Kafirs were killed, and two prisoners taken. On examining the ground an almost impracticable path underneath the precipice was found, by which it is believed Seyolo and a few of the rebels escaped during the night.

Our loss on this day and the previous one was 4 natives killed and 3 wounded, of this number

2 of Siwani's Kafirs were killed and 2 wounded. It will be observed by Commandant Von Linsingen's report, that these loyal Kafirs behaved extremely well, and showed an example of bravery to the other natives, the gallant conduct of Captain Clarke, their leader, and of "Jem," a relative of Siwani, is especially brought to notice.

20. On receiving this report from Von Linsingen, I ordered my Head-Quarters to move to King William's Town, visiting the Peri chain of posts, south of the Buffalo Range, on my way. Movements of troops are now taking place for a continuance of operations in another quarter, the details of which will form a separate report.

21. It having been reported to me on the 3rd instant that the rebels on the Buffalo Range were collecting above Keiskama Hock, I arranged that Colonel Wood should attack them the following morning, the enemy however anticipated this by descending in force into the Gwili-gwili Valley before daybreak on the 3rd.

Captain Develing in command of the Alice Fingoe Levy, numbering only 150 men, and Captain Pohl, who had been watching for some days this part of the country, at once attacked them, and after a short engagement drove them back up the hill into the Buffalo Poort Bush; 22 of the rebels were counted dead on the field, 4 of Captain Develing's men were wounded, 1 Fingoe woman and 1 man, resident in the valley, were killed, and 3 wounded. Captain Develing re-took all but 10 head of the 100 cattle and 300 sheep which had been captured by the rebels.

No doubt this raid was made with the object of obtaining supplies, as all my information shows that the rebels in the Buffalo Range are suffering from hunger.

Great credit is due to Captain Develing for his prompt action in this affair: although quite unsupported he attacked without hesitation a largely superior force, and his men must have behaved equally well, as I know the ground where the fight took place to be very difficult.

22. Commandant Lonsdale reports that on arriving with re-inforcements he found the rebels in full retreat and disappearing over the heights.

23. Commandant Schermbrucker, whose camp is under Mount Kemp, on hearing the firing promptly moved out, but arrived too late to be able to effect anything material.

He reports seeing a larger number of the enemy about the Buffalo Range plateau, which we cleared this day month, than he has observed before. No doubt the fugitives from the Intala Ka' Udoda have re-inforced them, but as on the 30th ult. the whole of the cattle were captured, I am of opinion that they are not in any way strengthened by this addition to their numbers, for if the reports are true that reach me, they have carried to them the news of a signal defeat, and they will certainly find it difficult to obtain a sufficiency of food.

24. I would beg to call your attention to an affair referred to in Colonel Wood's report, which took place on the 23rd ult., in which Commandant Streatfield successfully repulsed an attack made on him by the rebels in the Rabula Valley, and inflicted on them considerable loss.

Transkei.—Colonel Glyn, 1st Battalion 24th Regiment, with a considerable force is operating on the Bashee, and Major Elliott with Native Levies is moving on the left bank.

I have not received any particulars up to date of their proceedings.

Transvaal and Natal.—There is nothing to report from this portion of the command.

Tambookieland and St. John's.—I regret that I am still unable to furnish a report of the late operations of Major Elliott in the Gatberg country, but none has reached me, his dispatches which were forwarded to me by the Hon. Secretary for Native Affairs have apparently miscarried.

There is nothing new from Kokstadt.

I have, &c.

FRED. THESIGER,
Lieutenant-General Commanding.

From Colonel Evelyn Wood, Commanding Field Force, to the Deputy Adjutant-General.

SIR, Burn's Hill, 11 P.M., 30*th April*, 1878.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that the troops operating on the western side of the Seuyoea Valley marched before daylight under the following arrangements:—Two companies 90th Light Infantry, about 160 men; Lonsdale's Fingoes, 750; Streatfield, 350 men; the whole under Major Hackett. The 90th Light Infantry advanced from the Lower Rabula towards the Tutu Bush, the right of the line reaching nearly to Figland's Farm, while the left touched the water line of the Seuyoea Valley.

Bowker's Rovers watched Hobb's Drift and the Lower Rabula.

2. The Burn's Hill detachment, consisting of 4 guns, R.A., 25 mounted men, and 3 companies 90th Light Infantry, in all about 250 men, 130 Stockenstrom Hottentot Levy, and 46 Alice Police under Mr. Chalmers, moved up the Makabalekile Ridge, followed by 50 men of the Diamond Field Horse under Colonel Warren, R.E., the remainder of whose men watched Debe Flats. Lieutenant Cameron, R.E., assisted me as an orderly officer.

3. As we ascended the ridge, Kafirs in considerable numbers, estimated from 300 to 500 men, were seen running from the eastward to reinforce the rebels already in ambush on either side of the path. These soon opened fire on our advanced guard, consisting of Captain Stevens' company 90th Light Infantry, and Captain Smith's 2 guns (horsed), under my immediate direction.

4. The rebels behaved with great spirit; two or three men were shot down at close quarters in the path, while large bodies stood their ground inside some thick bush close to our advance.

5. Captain Stevens being severely wounded whilst at the head of his company, I directed his subaltern, Lieutenant Saltmarshe, to take his place, but in less than five minutes he was shot dead. Both these officers acted in the most gallant and determined manner, offering a fine example to all. I then desired Major Cherry, who had previously commanded the main body, to head the front company, which he did, moving rapidly forward by short rushes, and being materially assisted by Captain Smith's guns, which fired case into rebels in the bush distant about 30 yards only.

6. After gaining the open ground, we halted to enable the ambulances, Scotch carts, and bullock guns, which I ordered by flag signal to advance, to join us. We then moved forward, and after effecting a junction with Commandant Von Linsingen and Major Buller, the troops under the latter lined the bush path leading into the Seuyoea, while Von Linsingen's men and the 90th Light Infantry moved down the Seuyoea and Tutu ravines to meet the Lower Rabula column which joined us about 4 P.M.

7. The force ascending the Makabalekile Ridge took about 70 head of cattle and some few horses. Between 350 and 400 women who came out of the bush, and who belonged generally to Seyolo's, E. Sandilli's and Pato's tribes, stated that Seyolo himself with 400 men defended the Makabalekile Ridge.

E. Sandilli and Macomo were in the Tutu Bush.

8. It is impossible to state exactly how many Kafirs were killed on the Makabalekile Ridge. The rebels were in force, and were seen carrying off their dead and wounded. Nine were counted north and seven south of the path, but they were those only in the immediate vicinity of the path. The Lower Rabula force under Major Hackett, counted 35 dead Kafirs, Von Linsingen's column, 16.

9. I append a list of casualties in the Burn's Hill detachment, which, as it was out of one company, is to my regret, severe.

The only other casualties west of the Seuyoea were two of Lonsdale's Fingoes wounded near Figland's Farm.

The wounded men received every attention possible from Surgeon-Major Alcock.

I have, &c.

(Signed) EVELYN WOOD,
Colonel Commanding Field Force.

The Lieut.-General himself must have noticed the great benefit of signalling which is emminently adapted for this country intersected by deep ravines.

From Commandant Von Linsingen to Deputy-Adjutant-General.

Debe Neck, 1*st May*, 1878.

1. AS ordered, the corps under my orders took up its position to attack the rebels, suspected to be at and around the Intaba Indoda, at sunrise yesterday as follows:—

Right wing, under Captain Rautenbach, half Rautenbach's and half Berlin Horse mounted, 10 men of Rautenbach's and other half of Berlin Horse dismounted, together with Maclean's and Kirsten's Fingoes, to attack the south-east of the Taba Indoda, leaving their extreme right—the mounted men—on the road leading from here to Bailie's Post.

Centre, under my direct command, consisting of No. 2 company, Buffalo Volunteer Rifles, under Lieutenant Selzer, of the Punzana Fingoes under Captain Clarke, Ludwig's Fingoes, 20 dismounted Humansdorp men, and 300 Siwani's Kafirs, to attack the south-west of the Taba Indoda. The Kafirs of Siwani, led by Captain Clarke and Lieut. Selzer, were supported by the whole of No. 2 company, Buffalo Volunteer Rifles, and behaved extremely well, knew no "single file" business, and were difficult to be held in when on the track of the enemy. They killed seven rebels; one of these was hit by an assegai, thrown from a distance of nearly fifty yards. They are very indifferently armed, having guns of a very inferior description, and one-half only armed with assegais.

Left wing, under Captain Warren, consisting of Warren's Horse, Bartholomew's Fingoes, Keis Kama Fingoes, to advance from the Makabalekile Ridge towards the Taba Indoda, scouring the slopes towards the south.

2. A little after sunrise the whole forces were ordered to advance; only old traces of Kafir encampments were found; on gaining the top of the ridges, we noticed enemy's cattle and a few of the enemy to the north. As soon as all the different forces had crowned the respective ridges, the whole of the forces were directed to scour the west of the Zanyorkive Valley, with the exception of the left wing under Captain Warren and two companies of Siwani's Kafirs, who were placed at the disposal of Colonel Wood. In the Zanyorkive Valley only old camping grounds were found; we advanced until we fell in with Lonsdale's and Streatfield's Fingoes, supported by a company of the 90th, and then made a three-quarter wheel to the left, and assisted in scouring the valley where most of the rebels where expected. In all 17 rebels were killed by my corps, most of them in the deep kloof leading to the Zanyorkive. Captain Warren, hearing heavy firing on his extreme left, hurried up in that direction, and was in time to co-operate against the rebels, who had been attacking the Artillery, and were retreating step by step.

I am happy to report that I am well satisfied with the behaviour of every officer and man of my force engaged, and beg at the same time to thank His Excellency for giving me the valuable assistance of his aide-de-camp Lieutenant Molyneux.

(Signed) VON LINSINGEN, Commandant.

From Colonel Evelyn Wood, Commanding District, to the Deputy Adjutant-General.

SIR, Alice, 24*th April*, 1878.

IN confirmation of my telegram of this date, I have the honor to report that on Commandant Streatfield moving into the Rabula Valley yesterday afternoon, he was attacked by rebel Kafirs, whose numbers he estimates at from 600 to 800. He repulsed and followed them up for some distance, and on his again withdrawing they followed his men across the Rabula River, near which several rebels were killed with assegais. He again advanced, and drove them up the Seuyoea Valley, and then returned and encamped unmolested. Two of the 1st Fingoe Levy were wounded. Thirty-four rebel bodies were counted. Major Cherry sent half a company, 90th Light Infantry, to support the Fingoes, but the rebels retired before it reached the place. I have now sent a company to encamp near the Fingoes.

Yours, &c.

EVELYN WOOD,

Colonel.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 18, 1878.

War Office, June 15, 1878.

A DESPATCH, of which the following is a copy, has been received from the Lieutenant-

General Commanding at the Cape of Good Hope :—

From Lieutenant-General Honourable F. A. Thesiger, C.B., to the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for War.

King William's Town, Cape of Good Hope,
SIR, May 15, 1878.

1. AS I had the honour of reporting in my despatch as per margin,* I had arranged the bulk of the forces at my disposal for operations in the Buffalo Range, where the rebels had been undisturbed since the 5th April.

2. They were daily seen in the plateau west of the Buffalo Poort, their numbers being estimated at 1,000 to 1,500.

At the beginning of April, a path had been cut by the troops from the direction of Mount Kempt to the lower portion of this plateau, and by using this (shown on map as "Molyneux Path") I hoped to prevent them retreating with impunity into the bush, all the other paths by which they could retire being at the same time waylaid.

To ensure success in this, it was absolutely necessary that the day of my intention to attack should be kept secret, and that the waylaying parties should be correctly posted.

I had taken every precaution in my power to ensure the first, and the officers detailed for the second duty had been personally shown the paths to be occupied.

3. At daybreak, on the 8th May, the columns† moved as follows :—That under Colonel E. Wood, V.C., C.B., from the head of the Rabula River to the Gozo Heights.

* No. 5, 1878, May 5

† For their strength, vide Enclosure A.

A column under Colonel Degacher, 2nd Battalion 24th Regiment, by Wood's Path, through the bush, half a mile west of Haine's Mill, to the plateau above, preceded by Commandant Allan Maclean's Fingoes.

Commandant Von Linsingen found a path a little to the left of the latter column.

Major Buller's force descended from Mount Kempt, by Molyneux Path, to the lower plateaux, Commandant Schermbrucker advancing with his force from Tsidingi, by Mount Kempt, followed Major Buller, C.B. These forces advanced as ordered, but the company of 2nd Battalion 24th Regiment, under Captain Surplice, and the Fingoes, under Captain Haynes, instead of waylaying the path called Buller's Path, went off too far to their right.

This mistake afforded an opening by which the enemy, on retiring from the plateau above, could escape, their retreat being covered (as actually happened) by a few determined men.

4. The force under Major Buller successfully occupied the lower plateau ; but it is his belief, in which I share, that the enemy knew of our intended attack, for there were no signs of a hurried departure.

The number on the plateau seen by him was but 300, but I believe as many more retreated without his seeing them.

The Kaffirs made no stand, but leaving the plateau, which offered very strong positions for defence, they retreated to the bush below by the path shown as Buller's Path, from which, had it been waylaid, these men would have been cut off. What occurred subsequently, in carrying the position taken up by them, is related in Major Buller's report. I regret to say that our loss was heavy in this attack.

5. The conduct of Major Buller deserves the highest praise. He set an example of intrepidity and calm courage to his men under very trying circumstances ; and although the operations of this day were not attended with all the success I expected, he did his best, by personal example, to secure it.

6. I beg to bring to your notice the terms in which Commandant Lonsdale is spoken of in the enclosed reports.

This officer is untiring in his exertions, and has before elicited warm commendation from those under whom he has served.

7. The rebels having been driven from the Buffalo Range Plateau during the 8th May, the western portion of the Buffalo Poort Bush was searched the next day : but few Kaffirs were found. Our only casualty was Captain Austen, 2nd Battalion 24th Regiment, slightly wounded.

8. On the 10th I moved details (as per margin)* of the forces westward to the Intaba District with the view that from this time two distinct forces should daily harass the enemy occupying the Intaba Ka Udoda and Perie Bushes. I fixed my headquarters between them at Bailie's Post.

9. By my direction Colonel Wood has commenced an earthwork (Fort Evelyn on map) for a garrison of two companies and two guns on the Gozo Heights, this will effectually prevent the plateaux being again occupied by the rebels. An earthwork has likewise been made to the east of the Intaba Ka Udoda for a garrison of two guns and one company ; the presence of artillery there will render (as already proved) the occupation by the rebels of the Zanynkive Valley and its Kloof impossible.

10. On the 11th May, parties of rebels, unaware of the return of our forces, had reassembled in this valley and its vicinity, but were dispersed by the guns, Royal Artillery, under Major Harness: Commandant Allan Maclean's Fingoes cleared the valley the same day.

11. On the 12th, the rebels were not to be found in their usual haunts when the forces of the Intaba District proceeded from their various posts at daybreak to seek for them. Commandant Von Linsingen, however, came across them about eleven A.M. in the bush to the east of the Makabalele Ridge. Here he attacked them, and, with the forces as per margin,* dispersed them with a loss of 33 killed. The Commandant speaks in high terms of the manner the force under his command behaved, and of the assistanee he received from Commandant Maclean; 18 of the enemy were killed by that officer's Fingoes; 96 women and ehildren were captured, who said that Tini Macomo was present at the fight.

12. On the same day Colonel Wood reports that Commandant Lonsdale, with his Fingoe Levy, left eamp on the Gozo Heights at three A.M., and, deseending the mountain to Haines Mill, proceeded to beat up the eastern valley of the Buffalo Poort. Captain Harber, commanding the left company, supported by a eompany under Lieutenant Duncombe, ascended to the stony preeipice to the left (Sandilli's Krantz on map), and came upon 500 Kaffirs. In the engagement that ensued he inflicted on the enemy a loss of 44 killed ; 18 women surrendered.

13. The loss of Lonsdale's Fingoes was 1 killed and 5 wounded. I consider this engagement reflects great credit on all concerned.

14. The prisoners taken speak of the rebels being greatly disheartened and straitened for food. I myself cannot but feel that the severe losses they have suffered during the past three weeks must have a great effect in shortening the present war ; and I was not surprised at hearing from Mr. Brownlee to-day that Sandilli had sent in to ask what terms would be offered him.

15. The instructions given to the forces under my command are not to cease harassing them day or night, and the officers in command are not likely to lose sight of these orders.

16. From the Transkei I have only received private advices from Colonel Glyn, by which I gather he had, up to the time of his writing, not met with any resistance, or, indeed, any of the enemy.

I have, &c.,
FRED. THESIGER,
Lieutenant-General.

From Colonel Evelyn Wood, Commanding Forces on the Buffalo Range, to the Deputy-Adjutant General.

Camp, Gozo Heights,
May 8, 1878.

SIR,

IN pursuance of my instructions, I arrived before daylight this morning on these heights with 4 Companies 90th Light Infantry ; the two Royal Artillery guns, and escort of 1 Company 90th Light Infantry, arriving at 6.40 A.M., though with some difficulty, and in each gun there is a broken shaft from the guns turning upside down.

Major Buller's column debouched exactly at break of day ; Colonel Degacher's column was a little late, the Fingoes being very stiff and cold from the heavy rain last night.

Commandant Schermbrueker arrived about nine A.M., and Von Linsingen about noon. The bush towards Frost's Plateau was beaten according to my orders by Fingoes, and 2 Companies 90th Light Infantry, but there were few Kaffirs north of Frost's Plateau. Some three hundred passed down the Buller-Haine's Mill Bush Path before Maclean's Fingoes reached the mouth of the path.

To ascertain in which direction the Kaffirs had gone, Major Buller led a reconnaissance to the path after Maclean's Fingoes had passed it, and turned northwards.

The Kaffirs held the rocks, as they did on the 29th March, when I reconnoitred in the same direction, and I deeply regret to have to report Captain McNaghten, Adjutant and second in command, Frontier Light Horse, was killed while placing his men in position. This officer served for some time under my orders during the last operations, and gave continued attention to his duties. At the same time also, Captain Whalley, of the Frontier Light Horse, was wounded, Corporal McCabe was killed, and also Private Klassen, of the Wodehouse Contingent, and two more volunteers were wounded.

As I considered the Kaffirs should be driven out, I called up Maclean's and Lonsdale's Fingoes from Frost's Plateau, and sent the former to turn the Kaffirs' natural fastness by the western, while Lonsdale's men should turn it by the eastern side.

Before, however, Maclean's Fingoes could arrive, they having the widest movement, Commandant Lonsdale pushed down with Captain Bode's Company of Lonsdale's Fingoes and pressed the Kaffirs in flank, when Major Buller, who had declined my offer of fresh troops, led on his men, and, together with seventeen men of the Stutterheim Police, and a few of the 24th Regiment, drove the path with a cheer, and the Kaffirs fell back, with the exception of five men who, armed with double-barrelled guns (taken), killed Private Davies, Frontier Light Horse, and one of Lonsdale's Fingoes, and wounded another before they were slain.

This attack on an immensely strong position was carried out in a most spirited manner by Commandant Lonsdale and by the Frontier Light Horse, the latter having moreover been under fire for a considerable time. During this time the Royal Artillery gun shelled the Buffalo Poort, where fires were burning, and the supposed position of Sandilli's cave. I only know of eight bodies of Kaffirs having been counted, though Mr. Lonsdale saw several fall over the precipice under the fire of those who attacked the Kaffir position. One body was found recently buried.

A Kaffir boy taken by Streatfield's Fingoes, says that all the Kaffir's supplies of spirits, oilman's stores, &c., came from Ross' Mission Station.

I have, &c.,

EVELYN WOOD, Colonel.
Commanding on the Buffalo Range.

Camp, Mount Kempt,
May 8, 1878.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report that in accordance with orders I left my camp in the Gwenque Valley with 110 men of the Frontier Light Horse on the 7th, arriving at Isidingi, I found two companies of the 2nd Battalion 24th Regiment, encamped there with two guns, Royal Artillery, instead of on the hill top.

I ordered Major Dunbar to move his two companies at once to this camp, taking only waterproof sheets and blankets. The two guns I left at Isidingi. We reached this camp at 5.30 P.M. Commandant Streatfield arrived with his Fingoes at 11.30 P.M., having made a long march in the dark, and in heavy rain, most cheerfully and expeditiously.

At 4.30 A.M. the 8th, I started with the force detailed in the margin,* passed through Molyneux Path unopposed, and debouched on the lower plateau at 6.30.

We found the lower plateau unoccupied, but saw a good many Kaffirs crossing the upper one.

I sent the Fingoes into the Buffalo Poort Bush, placed the 24th in advantageous positions lining the edge of it, and started at once with the Frontier Light Horse in pursuit.

Commandant Schermbrucker who had followed me down Molyneux Path here placed at my disposal detachments of Mounted Volunteers of the Corps named in the margin.†

Ascending the upper plateau we captured eight head of cattle, and drove one party of Kaffirs down a path so steep that we could not follow them.

I asked Commandant Maclean, who had just gained the plateau by Wood's Path, to go in pursuit with his Fingoes, and proceeded myself

* Frontier Light Horse, Captain Macnaghten; two companies 2nd Battalion 24th Regiment, Major Dunbar; 400 Fingoes, Commandant Streatfield.

† Wodehouse True Blues, Captain Spillman; Kaffarian Rangers, Captain Norman; Stutterheim Police, Captain Landry.

after some Kaffirs whom I had seen making for Buller's Path.

Passing Colonel Wood, V.C., C.B., who had just gained the upper plateau, by some unfortunate misunderstanding the Frontier Light Horse and all Commandant Schermbrucker's men remained with him and off saddled, so that although I did not know it, I went on with my personal escort alone (Lieutenant Haines and four men).

On nearing the rocky entrance of the path we were suddenly fired upon, two or three volleys in rapid succession, which killed one man and dangerously wounded another, and I found myself in face of the enemy in force with only three effective rifles. Sending one man for assistance he brought up some of the True Blues and Kaffrarian Rangers who were near ; and we made an attempt to storm the path, it would have been successful had the new comers come on, but they were unsteady, and we had to retire with the loss of two more men, both I regret to say from the fire of their comrades behind.

Colonel Wood now sent up Colonel Degacher with two companies of the 24th Regiment, but, owing to some misconception, they formed on the right, where there were no Kaffirs. I then brought up the Frontier Light Horse, and, while forming them for attack, I regret to state that Captain Macnaghten was killed, and Captain Whalley severely wounded.

This unsteadied the men, and a desultory fire was kept up on both sides for about an hour, during which the True Blues and the Kaffrarian Watchmen retired.

Commandant Lonsdale then came up with a few Fingoes, and charged the path with them, and the Frontier Light Horse joining him, the position was carried, with two men, one Fingoe and one trooper, being shot dead in the assault.

The Stutterheim Police, who had come up with the Fingoes, supported the assaulting party most efficiently.

Seven (7) Kaffirs were shot dead in the rocks; and as I myself saw at least three more fall dead over the Krantz on the right, I estimated the enemy's loss at fifteen. We got five double-barrelled guns, two being breech-loaders.

Having regard to the nature of the positions, which could only be approached by a very few men at a time, I think that all engaged in the assault deserve credit for the manner in which it was delivered, especially Commandant Lonsdale, who acted with the greatest gallantry.

The following is the list of casualties :—

Killed.

Frontier Light Horse.

Captain Macnaghten, Corporal McCabe, Trooper Davis.

Wodehouse True Blue.

Trooper France.

Wounded.

Frontier Light Horse.

Captain Whalley, severely, contused; Trooper Gilbert, very dangerously.

Wodehouse True Blues.

Trooper Klassen, very dangerously; Trooper Johnston, very severely; Trooper ———, slightly.

Lonsdale's Fingoes.

1 killed; 1 wounded.

Just as this was over, hearing a very heavy fire on the lower plateau, I descended and found that Major Dunbar was engaged with the enemy, who was holding the edge of the bush. I passed Streatfield's Fingoes in front of him, and cleared the plateau. Three (3) Kaffirs were killed.

We returned to camp above five P.M.

I have ordered the two guns, Royal Artillery, to move here to-morrow from Isidingi, and Major Dunbar to establish his camp here.

I have, &c.,
R. BULLER, Major,
Commanding Frontier Light Horse.

9th May. 9.5.—I had no opportunity of sending this till this evening. I have to-day, in accordance with Colonel Wood's orders, scoured the head of the Buffalo Poort Bush, and found it free from Kaffirs. Captain Austen, 2nd Battalion, 24th Regiment, was slightly wounded.

Board of Trade (Harbour Department), Whitehall Gardens, June 27, 1878.

THE Board of Trade have received through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a copy of a recent French law authorizing the making of a deep water harbour at Boulogne. The substance of this law is as follows :

The proposed works are to be undertaken at the public expense. The estimated cost is 17,000,000 francs, towards which the Chamber of Commerce at Boulogne is to contribute annually the sum of 100,000 francs for fifteen years.

From the 1st of July, 1878, a due of 45 centimes per ton will be leviable at the Port of Boulogne on all French or foreign ships entering the port with the exception of vessels belonging to or employed by the State, vessels engaged in fishing, towing, or pilotage, coasters between French Ports, and yachts or pleasure boats of any nation.

This due will be reduced to 10 centimes per ton for vessels engaged in carrying passengers. Such vessels will enjoy this reduction, although they may have merchandise on board, if the same does not occupy more than one-tenth of the tonnage space.

The collection of these dues is assigned to the Chamber of Commerce, with a view of repaying the contribution which it is engaged to furnish to the State, and will cease upon the completion of the engagements of the Chamber.
